DARST PROPOSES CRACKDOWN ON WILD DRIVERS, DOUBLE PARKERS

Asks Judges to Stiffen Penalties, Wants Board to Request 15 More Motorcycle Patrolmen for City.

A crackdown on traffic violators, especially those who double park, speed, roll through stop signs and weave in and out of traffic lanes, was proposed yesterday by Mayor Joseph M. Darst.

He asked police court judges to increase fines and penalties on all traffic violations and he made a personal appearance before the Board of Police Commissioners to request that 15 additional motorcycle traffic patrolmen be placed on the city's streets.

"Accidents of all kinds have continued to increase in the city," Darst asserted. "There have been more deaths to motorists and pedestrians because of what seems to be an increasing trend toward violation of traffic regulations.

"The wild drivers seem to be aware of the lack of motorcycle police on the streets and this seems to encourage them in their violations."

The Mayor said he realized the Police Department was limited by the Legislature in the number of uniformed men it could place on the street, but he told the Police Board he would lend his assistance in getting the law changed.

"We have no more police on traffic duty than we had 20 years ago," he stated, "but the number of autos on our streets has more than doubled."

Members of the Police Board were sympathetic with his suggestion, Darst said. The matter was taken under advisement.

The Mayor added that he would ask street department officials to follow a police suggestion for painting of white lines across streets where there are stop signs.

2 JEWISH LEADERS SAID TO HAVE ENDED LIVES IN HUNGARY

BUDAPEST, Aug. 11 (UP)—Newspapers reported today that the former head of the Hungarian section of the American joint distribution committee, his twin brother and their aged aunt all committed suicide yesterday.

Dr. Geza Szucs, 56 years old, who headed the Hungarian section of the committee, a Jewish refugee aid organization, from 1947 until it was dissolved in 1949, and his brother, Dr. Joseph Szucs, former general secretary of the organization, were killed when they leaped from a window of their third floor apartment, the newspapers said. Their aunt, aged 84, took poison at the same time, it was reported.

Reasons for the reported suicides were not announced. The brothers and the aunt left letters, the newspapers said, but they were seized by police.

HUNT FOR MISSING BOY IN SANDPIT GOES PAST 20-HOUR MARK

LANSING, MICH., Aug. 11 (AP)—A shifting sandpit apparently still holds the body of 9-year-old Douglas Davis.

The hunt for the boy, buried late Friday in the cave-in of a tunnel he had dug into a bank in the pit, went past the 20-hour mark at noon today.

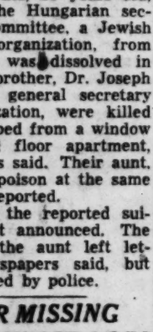

More than 100 volunteer workers, aided by motorized equipment, have turned over hundreds of tons of sand and gravel in the search for the child. So far, the only trace of the boy has been a shoe he is thought to have worn, and a garden trowel his two companions had used. They escaped when the bank collapsed on Douglas.

FIVE COLLISIONS BRING CHARGE OF DRUNKEN DRIVING

Accused Motorist Hurt Slightly in University City Mishaps.

Willie Bolanovich, who gave an address in the 1200 block of North Seventh street, was charged with careless and reckless driving, and driving an automobile while intoxicated, after a series of collisions in the 7200 block of Forsyth boulevard, University City, last night.

University City police said the car driven by Bolanovich, a 38-year-old pipefitter, caused minor damage to four other vehicles and indirectly damaged a fifth. He was arrested after being treated for a leg injury at St. Louis County Hospital, where doctors said he was suffering from "acute alcoholism."

The Bolanovich car, going east in Forsyth, first sideswiped machines driven by James William Pickles of St. Clair county and Richard M. Wall, 5655 Bartmer avenue, then jumped a curb and damaged two automobiles in a driveway at the residence of Mrs. Florence Kennedy, 7263 Forsyth.

After its impact with the machine driven by Bolanovich, the Pickles car caromed against a parked automobile belonging to Daniel Morgan, 7275 Forsyth. Four passengers in the Wall car, Mr. and Mrs. John Wall and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hegger of Carthage, Mo., were treated at County Hospital for shock. Bolanovich, released on bond, is to apear in University City Police Court next Saturday.

EX-BEAUTY QUEEN SUES H. I. HARRIMAN ESTATE FOR $500,000

BOSTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—A 38-year-old former beauty contest winner brought a $500,000 suit yesterday against the estate of Henry I. Harriman, former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, asserting she "devoted" herself to him for 14 years.

The suit was brought in Suffolk Superior Court by Miss Alice J. Nelson of Boston who in the early 1930s won a contest "for having the most beautiful legs in New England."

She asserts she is seeking the $500,000 to recover for services in maintaining a home for Harriman and for being his companion, confidant and adviser from October 1936 until his death at the age of 77 in July 1950.

The suit states Harriman "promised" to provide for her by will or otherwise an amount equivalent to what she would be entitled to if she were his daughter and he died intestate."

Miss Nelson maintained she gave up a career as a shoe and hosiery model when she met Harriman at a dinner party in 1935. She said he prevailed on her at that time to maintain a Boston home for him. Harriman left the bulk of his estate of more than $1,000,000 to his son, Gordon Harriman of Dallas, Tex.

Firemen Take an Hour and 40 Minutes to Get Riders Down One at a Time.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 11 (UP)—Firemen who used a 100-foot ladder to rescue 26 persons from a jammed ferris wheel said today the delicate operation was "like taking ants off a balanced watch spring."

The firemen had to move their ladder from one side to the other, removing one person at a time to keep the wheel balanced. Most of those rescued were children under 12 years of age. There were only two adults, women about 35, on the wheel.

The operation took an hour and 40 minutes. During that time, those on the wheel sat quietly waiting their turn. There was no panic and no one was injured.

The mishap occurred on the opening day of the Illinois State Fair, and a large crowd gathered below the ferris wheel to watch the firemen at work.

Fire Capt. Bernard T. Phillips said the rescuers had a three-way problem of balance.

The ferris wheel was a "twin," with two wheels revolving in opposite directions. They were connected by a comman shaft, balanced in the center, which moved up and down like a seesaw. Both sides of the wheel carried capacity crowds, Phillips said, when an axle pin jammed, suddenly stopping the wheel.

"We had to take one person off one side and then stand back and try to guess where we could take off the next one without throwing the wheel off balance," Phillips said.

"One fireman ascended the ladder and lashed the seat to the framework of the wheel. That man would then help one person onto the ladder where a second fireman helped them down. A third man waited at the foot of the ladder.

"We didn't say anything to the crowd, but we were afraid that the ladder might break, too," Phillips said.

When the last person had been taken down, the crowd gave a loud cheer for the firemen and several persons rushed forward to shake their hands.

CLOUDINESS, FOG BAR GOOD VIEW OF PERSEID METEORS

Cloudiness last night and ground fog early today kept St. Louis astronomers from getting a good look at the annual shower of Perseid meteors, and weatherman Harry F. Wahlgren predicted more of the same weather for tonight, climax of the display.

Edwin E. Friton, 508 Marshall avenue, Webster Groves, said that conditions were so bad that he was unable to check on earlier indications that much fewer than usual of the meteors would enter the earth's atmosphere.

"I got up once every hour or so, but I could see from the window that there was no sense going outside," Friton said. "Just before 5 o'clock this morning there was a little break. My son and I went out, but I saw only four and he saw two before the clouds closed in again."

BOYLE CHARGES HE IS VICTIM OF 'SMEAR ATTACK' IN LITHOFOLD DEAL

Party Chairman's Letter to Democrats Over Country Contains Denial of Connection With RFC Loans.

By EVARTS A. GRAHAM JR.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr. charged today that he was the victim of a "smear attack" in connection with his relations with American Lithofold Corp. of St. Louis in 1949, in a letter received by Democrats throughout the country.

The letter, which is being sent to persons on the national committee's mailing list, contains the text of the statement he released here last Sunday denying any connection with the granting of $565,000 in Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to the St. Louis printing firm.

After quoting his statement, he said: "I have discussed this matter in detail because I want you to have the facts which fully answer the smear attack that has been made on me.

"I will continue to live up to the standard of conduct that I have set forth in my statement, and I am going to do everything within my power to help you and the thousands of other Democrats who work with you to build the precinct organization that will bring us victory in 1952. That is my job and I do not intend to be distracted from it."

It was disclosed by the Post-Dispatch that American Lithofold received its RFC loan after Boyle went on the payroll, although its application had been rejected three times prior to his employment. He received a total of $8000.

His partner, Max Siskind of Washington and New York, continues on the payroll of the St. Louis concern at $500 a month. Together, the two have received a total of $14,500. James P. Finnegan, whose official conduct as collector of internal revenue in St. Louis is under investigation by a federal grand jury, is also on the company payroll at $1000 a month.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS INVITE BAKEWELL, BUT HE DECLINES

By a Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Representative Claude I. Bakewell of St. Louis politely declined with thanks yesterday the invitation of the Missouri Federation of Women's Democratic Clubs to attend the group's convention in Jefferson City next October and pay $40 for a full page "greeting" in the convention program. Bakewell is a Republican.

Mrs. Anna Mitchell, Bourbon, Mo., corresponding secretary of the women's organization, wrote Bakewell that it had been voted at a board meeting to "ask each of our Representatives in Congress if he would like to participate in our convention program this year."

"We thought it would be nice to have a greeting from each of you with your picture," she added discreetly. "The charge is $40 a full page, or $20 a half page."

Bakewell, equally discreet, replied: "Though many of my closest and most esteemed friends are Democrats, I am a member of the Republican party. Under the circumstances I have some questions as to whether or not I might be a welcome delegate.

"Please allow me to wish you and all the officers and members of your federation a pleasant convention and every success except at the polls on election day."

KING FAROUK LOSES $72,000 AT CARDS — $175 A MINUTE

CANNES, France, Aug. 11 (AP)—King Farouk's gambling "system" backfired again today. The playboy Egyptian monarch lost $72,000 in nine hours of play in a card game that ran from midnight to 9 a.m., casino sources said.

Riviera mathematicians figured he lost at the rate of $175 for every minute of actual play. This brought his losses over a two-day period to $157,700. Earlier, the King who had made some big winnings on his honeymoon tour, said he had developed his own system for winning high-stakes at the gambling table.

Queen Narriman, his 17-year-old wife who is reported expecting a child, watched her husband play for an hour and then retired to her hotel.

MONTE CARLO GUESTS POUR DRINKS, MAKE BEDS IN STRIKE

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Aug. 11 (AP)—A strike of waiters, bartenders and chamber maids hit this wealthy resort today in the middle of its tourist season.

Hotel managers and executive assistants served cold cuts to well-heeled guests who had to pour their own drinks and make their own beds.

The strikers want more pay. Officials of the principality of Monaco said their demands are groundless.

HENNINGS PLANS BILL TO SET UP MISSOURI VALLEY INQUIRY BOARD

Commission Would Hear Details of All Proposals, Seek to Consolidate Them Into One Program.

By EVARTS A. GRAHAM JR.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—A bill to appoint a commission which would attempt to resolve conflicting viewpoints on the development of the Missouri river valley into one generally acceptable program is being planned by Senator Hennings (Dem.), St. Louis.

Senator Hennings, who has devoted much of his time in recent months to a study of the various proposals which have been made, has not committed himself to the proposed Missouri Valley Authority, the Hoover Commission recommendations for internal reorganization within the Government, or the existing Pick-Sloan plan.

The measure, details of which are not yet certain, may be introduced in the Senate next week. Senator Hennings's goal is to achieve appointment of a commission, somewhat like the Hoover Commission, which would not be committed in advance to any of the plans, or to the Administration or the vested interests of various congressional committees.

Consolidation Proposed.

The body would be directed to review all the proposals that have been made and attempt to consolidate them in one program which would be both sound from the standpoint of engineering and finance and acceptable to the people of the Missouri valley.

It would not be expected to start from scratch on the problem, it was emphasized, but would undertake its work on a basis of what other groups already have learned and put forward.

Members of the commission might include independent experts appointed by the President, representatives of executive departments and members of Congress. They would be instructed to make their report in perhaps six months.

Senator Hennings has sponsored two measures for the immediate relief of victims of the recent floods in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. One was to provide temporary housing for the homeless, the other partial compensation from the Federal Treasury for property damage.

Protection a Duty.

He pointed out that "provision for emergency aid and rehabilitation measures, while basic and indispensable, in no way absolves the Federal Government of its responsibility to provide the necessary protection by means of an integrated, comprehensive water program that takes into account the total needs of the area.

"While the Federal Government and the states have been dragging their heels on this year after year, the cumulative loss over these years has reached a figure of staggering proportions."

A major stumbling block to Washington action on any long-range program to control floods and develop the Missouri valley has been the competing and conflicting claims of sponsors of the various plans. In addition, there has been little expression of popular support for a co-ordinated plan of development here in recent years.

It is thought that Congress members, confused about what can be done and uncertain of what the people in the valley want, would welcome a compromise of the various proposals, if one can be worked out.

TAX LIEN TIES UP $736,000 IN BONDS POSTED FOR REDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—A $1764 federal tax lien against the Civil Rights Congress, "bail angel" for accused Communists, has tied up $736,000 in bonds posted for the Red Defendants.

The tax lien was filed yesterday by the Collector of Internal Revenue for alleged nonpayment of taxes for the last two quarters of 1950 and the second quarter of 1951.

Included in the lien was $1675 for employes' income withholding and social security taxes alleged to be due. The balance was for interest and a penalty.

A memorandum filed with the lien put in escrow $376,000 in United States Treasury bonds posted as bail for the Communist leaders. This amount does not include the $80,000 forfeited by the C.R.C. when four convicted Reds jumped bail in July. The C.R.C., which is listed as a Communist front by the United States Attorney General, put up the bonds for Communists accused of conspiracy to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States Government.

Project for Truman's County Stirs Dispute, Ties Up Military Bill

Air Force Installation Touches Off Wrangle in House — Vote Delayed Until Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—A squabble over a proposed Air Force installation in President Truman's home county in Missouri has temporarily delayed House action on a record $5,768,000,000 military construction bill.

The House may reach a vote next Tuesday on the measure which aims chiefly at keeping the United States safe from any Russian atomic attacks.

But first, the House must take a roll call vote on a $19,019,000 project to expand the Grandview (Mo.) airport in Jackson county, near the Truman family home in Independence.

Project Part of Bill.

The project is part of the military construction bill and was approved by the Air Force and the House Armed Services Committee. It would permit the transfer of the continental air command from Mitchel Field, Long Island, to Grandview—an Air Force proposal aimed at strengthening the air reserve and Air National Guard programs.

Representative Gross (Rep.), Iowa, moved yesterday to strike out the proposed expansion at Grandview on the grounds it needlessly duplicated facilities at a nearby Air Force base at Sedalia, Mo., which is due for a $22,000,000 expansion.

Iowa is one of four states in which no military construction in the bill is scheduled. The others are Connecticut, West Virginia and North Dakota.

Amendment Defeated.

After bitter wrangling, the Gross amendment was defeated 56 to 16.

Gross then moved to send the bill back to the House Armed Services Committee with instruction from the House that it eliminate the Grandview item. He insisted on a roll-call vote.

But the House was under "a gentlemen's agreement" not to have roll-call votes on Friday or Monday. This is frequently done to permit members to take extended weekends.

Thus the House had to put over until Tuesday the roll call on Gross's amendment. In view of yesterday's vote, the amendment appears certain of final rejection.

Afterward, quick passage is expected for the bill which authorizes the largest single military construction program ever presented to Congress in peace or war.

INSTALLMENT WAGE BOOSTS TO STAND, IF NOT TOO LARGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (UP)—Workers due to get future pay boosts under contracts signed before Jan. 25 will be allowed to keep them—if they aren't too big.

The Wage Stabilization Board's newest policy on such deferred, or installment, wage increases is that they can be paid if they are not "unstabilizing." Deferred increase contracts are most prevalent in the construction industry.

The board voted unanimously yesterday to grant the boosts if they are made—as in most cases—to compensate for a rise in the cost of living or as an annual productivity rise. The board, however, reserved the right to block any installment increase which appeared to be "unreasonable."

LAWN MOWER NIPS FINGER; MAN FAINTS, BREAKS ARM

Farmington (Ill.) Resident Victim of Series of Mishaps at Home.

GALESBURG, Ill., Aug. 11 (AP)—George Goff of Farmington, near Galesburg, says that so far as he is concerned, the grass on his lawn can grow and grow.

While mowing the lawn yesterday, he nipped off the end of the first finger on his right hand. He had it treated by a doctor and returned to his mowing. The dressing on the finger got in Goff's way, and in attempting to remove it he fainted. In falling, he broke his arm.

F.D.R. Aid Dead

STEPHEN T. EARLY

STEPHEN T. EARLY DIES; SECRETARY, INTIMATE OF F.D.R.

Suffered Heart Attack Last Tuesday—Served 8 Years in White House Press Office.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Stephen T. Early, press secretary and intimate to the late President Roosevelt, died today. He was 61 years old.

He suffered a heart attack last Tuesday and died at George Washington Hospital shortly before noon today.

Since he left the White House after eight years in the press office, Mr. Early had been vice president of the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co. He took time out from that post for a stint as Deputy Secretary of Defense, an office from which he resigned shortly before Gen. George C. Marshall took over as head of the department.

Joseph Short, President Truman's press secretary, said: "Mr. Early took a turn for the worse last night. This morning there was some slight improvement. About 30 minutes before he died, he took a real bad turn and could not recover."

Role in History-Making.

Mr. Early was in the thick of history-making events throughout the tempestuous era of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

As President Roosevelt's press secretary, he was the principal link between the White House and the public. He released such outstanding news as the attack on Pearl Harbor; the formal orders that set the United States on the road to war; Winston Churchill's arrival in Washington in 1941 after a dramatic secret trip; V. M. Molotov's mission to the United States, and President Roosevelt's death.

His activities were not limited, however, to making official announcements. Reflecting the views of "the boss," the press secretary expressed opinions that had the ring of authority.

That was partly because, through decades of personal friendship and official relationships, he was keenly aware of the trend of the President's thinking. Their acquaintance dated from pre-World War I days, when Mr. Roosevelt was assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mr. Early was a reporter for The Associated Press.

Special Aid to Truman.

Early said he "went broke" while serving on the White House staff. He was anxious to accept a more lucrative post in private employment, but some emergency kept arising to keep him where he was. When Truman succeeded to the presidency, Mr. Early remained as a special assistant, to help smooth the way for him until mid-1945.

Before President Truman released him, he called Mr. Early into the White House rose garden and pinned the Distinguished Service Medal on his coat. This was in recognition of "inestimable help" to two Commanders in Chief.

SAYS REDS USE TALKS TO STATE 'POLITICAL PRICE,' NOT TO END WAR

U.N. Negotiator Makes Most Vehement Attack Yet, but Foe Remains Defiant on Buffer Zone Issue.

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN.

MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—V. Adm. C. Turner Joy told Communists in strong terms today they had "slammed the door on every attempt to make progress" in the Kaesong cease-fire talks.

The senior United Nations envoy aimed his words directly at Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, for Nam's inflexible stand on the thirty-eighth parallel as the only cease-fire line acceptable to the Reds.

"You did not come here to stop the fighting," Joy declared. "You did not come here to negotiate an armistice. You came here to state your price—your political price for which you are willing to sell the people of Korea a temporary respite from pain.

"You have engaged in these conferences only to present demands, not to negotiate a solution."

Nam "Apparently Angry."

When Nam left the conference room at the end of the day's session observers said he was "apparently angry."

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, an official spokesman, said Joy departed from his "normally well-tempered, coldly logical phraseology" in his most "vehement" attack yet on the Communists.

Nuckols said the negotiators wrangled for two hours and 20 minutes and reached only one agreement: to meet again tomorrow at 11 a.m. (8 p.m. Saturday, St. Louis time).

Joy's blast followed his failure to reach any sort of compromise agreement with the Reds.

The communique said the Reds "brusquely rebuffed" Joy's suggestion that they indicate on a map their concept of a buffer zone "based on the present battle line and the over-all military situation."

Reds Inflexible.

Nam and his fellow Reds stood pat on the "single and inflexible" demand that the line be based on the thirty-eighth parallel, prewar line dividing South Korea from Red North Korea.

The Allies have said they want the line to follow the present fighting front. Most of the front is in North Korea, although the line dips below the thirty-eighth parallel on the western front.

The unyielding envoys held their twenty-first meeting in a charged atmosphere generated by yesterday's long session of wasted words and long silences. The communique said:

"There was no progress made today toward the conclusion of a mutually acceptable military armistice."

Reds Hint at Failure.

The Pyongyang radio quoted the North Korean Government paper Minshu Chosun as saying the Kaesong talks contain "many elements for failure." It said settlement of the war could be achieved only through a thirty-eighth parallel cease-fire line and withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

The official Red Paper added, as quoted on the broadcast, that "the United States rejected" these proposals and therefore "the talks may end in failure despite the Korean people's wishes to the contrary."

Nam used the last part of today's session to repeat his demand that the buffer zone follow the thirty-eighth parallel. He refused Friday to discuss any other line or to move on to the next point on the agenda.

The Reds made the protest Thursday. Adm. Joy immediately rejected it as "without validity."

He told Nam that no Red vehicle would be immune from attack unless the Allies were first advised of the time and route of its journey, and unless the vehicle carried white markings.

The Peiping radio today carried the text of Nam's reply, saying Joy's explanation was "entirely unsatisfactory" and asking Joy to guarantee that such incidents would not happen again.

Ground Fighting Bogged Down.

Mud bogged down ground fighting in the west. Patrol action was spotty in the central section, but bitter local fighting raged in the east for control of three hills southwest of Kansong.

Fifteen B-29 Superfortresses bombed Hungnam port in northeast Korea, using radar.

United States airmen spotted more than 2000 enemy vehicles on Red supply routes last night. Despite clouds and thunderstorms war planes flew 635 sorties, attacking the heavy enemy traffic.

Longing for Vacation Described As a 'Pathological Symptom'

CHAUTAUQUA, N.Y., Aug. 11 (UP)—Longing for a vacation was described today as "a pathological symptom in nice evening clothes," by Dr. Karl Menninger, head of the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kan.

"When most people go on vacation they are taking a rest period from a winter of doing nothing," the psychiatrist said.

In a lecture at Chautauqua Institute, Dr. Menninger criticized forced retirement plans. He maintained they "might be good for business" but "are not conducive to the sound mental health of the individuals who are retired."

"Vocational and leisure time inactivity tend to push people into imaginary worlds," he said.

Dr. Menninger said he found glaring examples of the results of useless inactivity in Topeka during the recent Kansas flood. He said he saw a large number of people "who had no idea what to do when there were millions of jobs to be done."

Bride Travels Far to Visit G.I., Finds He Has Left to See Her

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 11 (AP)—An 18-year-old bride, Mrs. William Shriver, traveled more than 1000 miles from Spokane, Wash., to pay her sergeant husband a surprise visit at Fort Huachuca. When she arrived Thursday afternoon, he wasn't there. He had received a furlough and had left for Spokane to surprise her.

Mrs. Shriver started back home. Her funds ran out when she got to Tucson, about 80 miles northwest of the fort.

She broke down and cried in the bus station here. Police saw her and she told them her story. She repeated it to Red Cross officials.

Then she became ill. She was rushed to the hospital at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base at Tucson. Doctors removed her appendix yesterday. She is recovering, but her one big question is "Where is Bill?"

Shriver should arrive in Spokane today. The Red Cross is watching for him to tell him where his young wife is.

RIGHT TO REQUIRE CRIME TESTIMONY ON TV MAY FACE TEST IN COURTS

Senate Upholds Contempt Citations Against Two in Cleveland Who Refused to Testify Before Cameras.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (UP) —The right of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee to require witnesses to testify in televised hearings is headed for a possible test in the criminal courts.

By a 38 to 13 vote the Senate stuck to its citations accusing two Cleveland witnesses of contempt of Congress for refusing to testify last March 26 at Crime Committee hearings. The hearings were covered by television, newsreels and radio as well as the press. Senator Douglas (Dem.), Illinois, voted in favor of refusing to withdraw the charges.

The committee plans to televise hearings here next week exploring New York underworld activities.

Debate Is Bitter.

A frequently bitter five-hour debate preceded the vote sustaining contempt citations against Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf, described by Senator Kefauver (Dem.), Tennessee, as members of "one of the largest and most sinister criminal gangs" in the United States.

Kleinman and Rothkopf refused to talk because they said, their constitutional rights were violated by TV, newsreel and radio broadcasting of the hearings.

The Senate's vote sustained contempt citations orginally voted against the two men on March 30, but stayed since April 2 on the motion of Senator Cain (Rep.), Washington.

Citations to Attorney.

The citations go now to the United States district attorney for submission to a federal grand jury. The witnesses' complaints against TV might figure in any grand jury decision. Conviction of contempt of Congress is punishable by up to a year in jail and $1000 in fines.

The televised crime hearings were smash hits on television, viewed at times by more than 20,000,000 persons.

Cain, leading a fight against the citations, argued that gangsters or not, Kleinman and Rothkopf are American citizens whose constitutional rights were invaded by the televising of the hearings.

Kefauver Assailed.

Cain likened the televised hearings to a totalitarian people's court, and blasted Kefauver for the manner in which he ran them as chairman. He contended it would be improper to charge the witnesses with contempt for refusing to take part in a "headline hunting extravaganza."

Kefauver, in reply, said he was "sorry the junior Senator from Washington has felt this should be turned into a personal attack on me."

The issue, he said, is whether "notorious criminals" had a right to "dictate to the Senate" and the committee the terms under which they would testify.

Wreckage of Troop Train, Streamliner

Wreckage litters the foreground as smoke rises from the smoldering debris of three charred and twisted cars following the head-on collision of a Kansas City Southern streamliner and a troop train near Simmesport, La., yesterday.

TRAIN COLLISION FATAL TO 8 LAID TO IGNORED ORDER

Troop Carrier Told to Take Sidetrack but It Didn't, Railroad Man Says.

SIMMESPORT, La., Aug. 11 (AP)—Plans were made today for an official investigation into the cause of a high-speed, head-on train crash in which eight men died in flaming wreckage, about 60 other persons were injured and one marine was missing. None of the dead or injured was listed as from the St. Louis area.

Dr. J. C. Roberts, coroner of Pointe Coupee parish (county) said he would conduct a hearing soon to establish a verdict on "where the fault lies."

He said the crash was caused by a "garbled, forgotten or ignored message" received by the crew of a troop train carrying 288 marines that plowed into the oncoming Kansas City Southern streamliner, the Southern Belle. The crash occurred about 7 a.m. yesterday 60 miles northwest of Baton Rouge, La.

Order Ignored.

R. R. Sutter, superintendent of transportation of the Kansas City Southern that operated both trains, said the troop train's crew ignored an order to sidetrack their train for the streamliner.

"Just why the crew of the troop train failed to switch it to the side track is something we may never know since most of those who might be able to give some reason are already dead," Sutter said.

Sutter said the trains had an authorized speed of 55 miles per hour, adding "I have no reason to believe that either train was traveling much slower than that at the time."

The troop train was en route from Camp Lejeune, N. C., to San Diego, Calif., at the time of the crash. A marine identified the troops as the First 90 millimeter Anti-Aircraft Artillery Gun Battalion.

Marine Missing.

Marine Corps headquarters in Washington, listed Cpl. Chester Louis Lipa, 21 years old, of Detroit, as dead in the crash but Sutter said workmen who made a thorough search of the wreckage could find no trace of his body.

Maj. Fred Dunkle, commanding officer of the marine outfit, reported earlier that one marine was dead but later refused to say whether Lipa was dead or missing.

More than 50 persons, 26 of them marines, were hospitalized at Morganza, New Roads, Baton Rouge, Marksville and Camp Polk, La., and one marine was flown to Brooke Army hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

Aubrey Stears Jr., 9, of Lettsworth, was an indirect victim of the wreck. An automobile struck him and his pony killing both, as they galloped to the scene of the wreck.

Crash at Bend.

The crash occurred on a double bend in the flat cotton and timber country northwest of Baton Rouge, a bend so sharp that neither train crew could have seen the other train until almost the moment of the collision. Dr. Roberts said one engineer leaped from his cab but was killed when his careening engine toppled over on him.

K.C.S. spokesmen said the right of way has been purchased to eliminate the dangerous curve, but work has not yet begun on the project. The tracks on which the accident occurred are owned by the Louisiana & Arkansas Railroad, which allows the Kansas City Southern to use them.

So terrific was the force of the collision that eyewitnesses expressed surprise anyone escaped alive.

Praise for Marines.

"If it had not been for the marines, I don't know what the (civilian) passengers would have done," said Ray J. Marran, executive secretary of the Kansas City (Mo.) fire department. He and his wife were passengers aboard the Southern Belle.

"There was a loud crash and breaking glass," he said. "Furniture in the diner tumbled around, people were thrown all around the car. One man's face was badly cut. A woman lay unconscious on the floor. A porter had his leg broken and it was dangling."

However, he said, "there was no panic. Everyone was unusually calm. In no time, it seemed, marine rescue squads were working."

Rescue workers cut through a smashed car in search of dead or injured. Eight persons were killed and more than 60 injured in the collision and fire which followed.

RED PAPER TELLS OF OCEAN' OF BOOTLEG SOVIET CHAMPAGNE

MOSCOW, Aug. 11 (AP)—The trade union paper Trud charged today that bootleg champagne in Russia is pouring out an "ocean for lovers of bubbles" and depriving the Government of much revenue.

It said Soviet winery combines such as the Don and Bessarabian distilleries and Abrau-Dyurso and Massandra wineries are showing losses of thousands of bottles. The consequent loss to the Government runs into hundreds of thousands of rubles, Trud said.

The paper accused the Soviet Union Ministry of Food and Industry of creating conditions favorable for thefts, losses and disappearances of bottled goods.

It said the ministry tolerates extraordinary percentages of wastage reported and champagne combine directors are allowed to write off 26 bottels out of every 100.

WORLD WAR COULD BREAK OUT IN FALL, SAYS A. A. BERLE JR.

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 11 (AP)—World War III could break out this autumn with a Russian attack on Yugoslavia, former Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle Jr. said today.

He said intelligence experts figure the chances of war about 50-50, although he personally thought "the climax will not come for another year."

Berle said in a speech here that Russia plans a triple drive for world power through southeast Asia, Iran and the Balkans.

"We are in the shadow of a diplomatic crisis more dangerous than we have been willing to recognize," he declared. "This crisis is moving faster and more violently even than the headlines indicate. It could mean World War III this autumn, though I think the climax will not come for another year."

PRIEST GETS REPLY FROM RED KOREA ON MISSIONARIES

UNITED NATIONS ADVANCE BASE BELOW KAESONG, Korea, Aug. 11 (UP)—North Korean Gen. Nam Il has promised to refer to the proper authorities "if I have time" an American priest's appeal for information about 130 missionaries missing behind Communist lines in Korea.

The appeal was sent by the Rev. Patrick O'Connor of Saint Columbans, Nebr., and delivered to the North Korean general in Kaesong July 20.

Nam Il's reply, dated Aug. 2, apologized for not answering sooner "because of lack of time." It said, however, that "under written regulations of the army (and) police, everybody has religious freedom. Therefore, since under the people's democratic government no oppression exists in Korea, believers are not imprisoned."

Father O'Connor is in Korea as a representative of the National Catholic News Service. He said the missing missionaries comprised 130 Roman Catholics and an undetermined number of Protestants. They include three foreign Catholic bishops, Patrick J. Byrne, Patrick J. Brennen and Thomas Quinlan.

$6,000,000 ADVANCE TO SPAIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The United States yesterday advanced Spain $6,000,000 to develop Spanish fertilizer and steel production.

That made a total of $42,049,713 credits to Spain from an authorization by Congress of $62,500,000.

U.S. HAS VIOLATED FRIENDSHIP PACT, POLAND CHARGES

WARSAW, Aug. 11 (AP)—Poland has handed the United States ambassador here a note stating that the United States, because of its postwar actions, "deprived itself of the right to enjoy privileges granted it" under the 1931 Polish-American treaty of friendships, trade and consular rights.

This was the latest development in the worsening relations between the United States and Poland evidenced by the Polish action in its closure of the United States Information Service here.

The note, handed to Ambassador Joseph Flack Wednesday, replied to an American note of July 5, suggesting annulment of the article of the 1931 treaty which relates to the most-favored-nation clause covering trade relations.

Poland said the United States for a long time had been violating clauses of the treaty. The note said the United States could not take advantage of illegal actions to free itself from treaty obligations.

Hajime Kanedaka, 38-year-old factory worker, told police he murdered his wife and stepdaughter nine months ago.

Workers discovered the body of his sixth wife after Kanedaka had told friends she left him. He was reported living with his seventh wife when arrested.

Negro Family, Victims of Cicero Riots, to Move to Norwalk, Conn.

NORWALK, Conn., Aug. 11 (UP)—A Negro bus driver who touched off a riot recently when he attempted to move his family into an all-white neighborhood in Cicero, Ill., a Chicago suburb, has accepted an invitation to live in this city.

Harvey E. Clark Jr., a guest at Norwalk's 300th anniversary celebration, said yesterday he and his family would pull up stakes in Chicago and move here in the near future.

"There are things I must see through back in Cicero," Clark told reporters. "But after that is finished, Norwalk here I come."

Stanley Joseloff, a member of the observance committee, made the invitation to Clark, his wife and two children.

"Both Mr. and Mrs. Clark accepted the offer with appreciation," Joseloff said.

"It will be some time before they can return here permanently because of a proposed grand jury investigation of the Cicero disorders and a $200,000 damage suit pending in Federal district court which was filed by the Clarks against the Illinois city officials."

TRUMAN NOMINEE FOR JUDGE DENIES ANY COMPROMISE

Harrington Says He Asked for Delay of Hearing So He Could Refute Two Witnesses.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) —Cornelius J. Harrington yesterday upset reports there might be a compromise between President Truman and Senator Paul Douglas (Dem.), Illinois, over Harrington's nomination to the United States district court in northern Illinois.

The hearing on his nomination, he told reporters, had been delayed only to give him time to refute two witnesses who appeared against him yesterday. The Department of Justice asked for the delay last week and that immediately led to speculation of a compromise.

The Senate Judiciary subcommittee is considering the President's nomination of Harrington and Joseph J. Drucker to places on the Chicago bench. Douglas's recommendations of William H. King Jr., a Chicago lawyer, and Benjamin P. Epstein, Chicago circuit judge, were ignored by Truman.

Douglas Uses Prerogative.

Using a senatorial prerogative, Douglas said the President's nominations were "personally obnoxious," though he considered them estimable men. Douglas's phrase is one that in the past has usually been enough to get the Senate to block a nomination.

Arguing that the Senate has a duty to maintain judicial standards, Douglas said he was trying to obtain "better qualified men" by opposing the President's nominations. Douglas said he had tried to lift the controversy "above the level of a power struggle with the President."

The witnesses Harrington had in mind in his delaying action were Dr. Erwin Pasternak, a Chicago dentist; and Harrison Parker, who identified himself as "chancellor of the Puritan Church, Church of America."

Divorce Case Cited.

Pasternak's objection was based on the handling by Harrington, as a Chicago circuit judge, of a divorce suit filed by Pasternak's wife. Harrington submitted court records on the case, and a psychiatric report on Pasternak from the Cook County Behavior Clinic.

Parker testified Harrington formerly was a member of the Chicago law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, Martin and Ellis. He said the Chicago Tribune once paid that firm $1,000,000 to "bribe" tax authorities to omit the Tribune from personal property tax rolls. Harrington denied knowledge of any such matter and said he merely was employed by the firm many years ago as a clerk. He added that Parker now is awaiting trial in United States district court in Chicago on a mail fraud indictment. Parker, who promoted puzzle contests to finance his church, has been the subject of several Government actions. The Post Office department put a stop to his mail in 1949.

Asserting that "no one has regretted this dispute more than I," Douglas said: "What I have, perhaps imperfectly, sought to do in requesting these advisory polls (by bar associations) is to raise this issue above the level of a power struggle with the President and to base it on the relative qualifications of the different candidates."

HUGE ARMS BUDGET 'RUBBER STAMPED,' CURTIS CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Thomas B. Curtis (Rep.), Webster Groves, Mo., declared today that "tremendous expenditures" for the Defense Department have been "rubber stamped by the Congress."

He said in a statement that a military construction authorization bill ready for House action contains "military programs which have not been checked thoroughly or adequately." Final action on the $5,780,000,000 measure was delayed until next week.

Curtis stated that the House Thursday approved expenditures of $56,047,405,890 for the Defense Department and that the only cut in the committee proposal was one for $15,000,000 which he proposed.

On both bills, he said, committees worked hard but had little staff assistance, and most testimony came from military sources directly interested in the appropriations.

"No work was done or could be done to really check these figures," he declared. "There was not a member of Congress, in my opinion, who deep down within him does not know that these bills were loaded with unnecessary and wasteful expenses."

ECUADOR REPORTS ATTACKS BY PERU ON ITS BORDER

QUITO, Aug. 11 (UP)—Peruvian troops attacked Ecuadorean frontier garrisons yesterday and the day before, an official statement said today.

The Ecuadorean Government said additional details of the reported attack were expected momentarily.

An old and bitter dispute over border territory has resulted in intermittent fighting between Ecuador and Peru for nearly a century. President Galo Plaza appealed yesterday to the United States, Argentina and Brazil to aid in a new attempt to settle the dispute.

'I Would Like to Be Airman on This Field'---Eisenhower at Jet Base

General, Wife and Mother-in-Law Visit U.S. Outfit in Germany—Part Vacation, Part Inspection Tour.

FUERSTENFELDBRUCK, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, arriving in Germany for a nine-day combined vacation and inspection tour, told United States airmen at this big jet base today, "I would like to be an airman on this field."

"I have seen American fighting men in all parts of the globe, but I have never seen a base more attractive than this one," the Atlantic pact commander said.

He spoke briefly to 500 members of the Thirty-sixth Fighter Bomber Wing and their families lined up to greet him at this former Luftwaffe training base.

Sunburned and smiling, Eisenhower yanked off his cap to watch a dazzling display of aerial acrobatics by the "Skyblazers" — a four-man jet team flying F-84s.

He spoke enthusiastically of their performance to Col. Robert L. Scott, the wing commander, then drove along a long line of jets lined up for his inspection.

Before one plane, Eisenhower stopped his automobile and got out to talk with the pilot, Second Lt. Robert W. Merck, 23 years old, of Bishopville, S. C. Merck told the general he recently had been forced to ditch his plane in the Mediterranean when the engine failed.

"Don't make a practice of that," Eisenhower replied, smiling.

Eisenhower was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

HARRIMAN SEES SHAH AS IRAN OIL TALKS LAG

U.S. Envoy Apparently Trying to Speed Up Negotiations With British.

TEHRAN, Aug. 11 (AP) — W. Averell Harriman called on Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi today in an apparent effort to speed up the dragging British-Iranian oil talks.

This is the first action taken by Harriman, the American trouble-shooter sent to Iran by President Truman, since the arrival here of Richard Stokes, the chief British negotiator.

The talks were not making much progress. Informed sources said the negotiators have not settled down to brass tacks in an effort to resolve the crisis stemming from Iran's decision to nationalize the oil industry.

The government radio said premier Mohammed Mossadegh would call on Harriman tonight. This may mean that Harriman will resume an active role in an effort to get both sides together. He was successful in getting the British and Iranians to resume their talks this week, but since then has been on the sidelines.

Apparently a hitch has developed in the negotiations. A special British-Iranian subcommittee canceled a meeting this morning. It had been scheduled to discuss some sort of temporary arrangement whereby oil shipments can be resumed at Abadan, the giant refinery of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

The Iranians were reported demanding 75 per cent of current oil revenues. The British propose that the whole amount be frozen in some mutually acceptable bank pending final agreement on division of profits.

Harriman made a flying visit yesterday to Tabriz, capital of Azerbaijan.

In a talk over the Tabriz radio, Harriman said United States equipment for Azerbaijan's railway system would arrive soon and American officials also hoped to help build up agriculture and industry in the province, which borders on the Soviet Union.

YOUTH HURT WHEN HE WALKS AGAINST SIDE OF LOCOMOTIVE

Clarence Schuhardt, 18 years old, of Centerville Station, was injured seriously yesterday when he walked against the side of a moving Southern Railway diesel locomotive in the rear of the G. S. Suppiger Co. receiving station, 2629 West Main street, Belleville.

Schuhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schuhardt, had delivered some tomatoes to the company. He failed to see the freight train because he was reading a bill of lading while crossing the railroad tracks, witnesses said.

At St. Elizabeth's Hospital he was reported suffering from head injuries and a fractured right arm.

SCOUT JAMBOREE DRENCHED SECOND TIME IN 24 HOURS

BAD ISCHL, Austria, Aug. 11 (AP)—Heavy rains drenched the seventh world Boy Scout jamboree late yesterday for the second time in 24 hours. Paths of the 272-acre camp site, still muddy from Thursday's downpour, became almost impassable within a few minutes.

The scouts sought shelter in their tents. Cooks struggled to keep fires alight for supper.

A total of 17,000 scouts from 47 nations are attending the jamboree.

NEHRU FIGHTS REBEL FACTION IN HIS PARTY

Reported to Have Demanded Complete Support—Threat of Resignation.

NEW DELHI, Aug. 11 (UP)—Premier Jawaharlal Nehru sought today to snuff out a factional rebellion over his leadership of India's powerful National Congress party.

Informed sources said he demanded at a meeting of the party's working committee that leaders grant him complete support or consider his resignation from the party.

No decisions were reached and Congress leaders scheduled further talks to restore party harmony.

Nehru's chief opponent within the party, Purshotamdas Tandon, was reported to have offered his resignation as Congress president to appease the prime minister. Nehru bitterly opposed Tandon's election last year.

Meanwhile, United Nations mediator Frank Graham arrived here from Pakistan for further talks with the Indian Government on the Kashmir dispute.

He plans to see Nehru and probably will discuss tentative proposals for pulling out Pakistani and Indian troops from the state each country claims.

A reliable Pakistani source said in Karachi yesterday that his Government agreed in principle to Graham's troop pullback proposals, but wants Indian reaction before planning further steps.

Graham has been trying for several weeks to get a peaceful agreement on Kashmir. Pakistan and India fought an undeclared war over Kashmir in 1947-48 and lately have been shifting troops to border areas and exchanging hot words.

TITO THANKS U. S. FOR FOOD SUPPLIED 'IN HOUR OF NEED'

BRIONI, Yugoslavia, Aug. 11 (AP) — Premier Marshal Josip (Tito) Broz formally thanked the United States last night for its aid in Yugoslavia's "hour of need."

At ceremonies here marking the end of the $100,000,000 American food assistance program, Tito also warned that Yugoslavia "must be cautious" against an invasion by the Russian-led Cominform this year.

Chatting jovially with representatives of the American press, Tito admitted that Yugoslavia, cut off from its former food supplies behind the Iron Curtain, may need more American aid soon.

This view was upheld by United States Ambassador George Allen, who also was present at the ceremonies. Allen praised Yugoslavia's full and efficient cooperation in administering the aid program.

PERSONAL INCOMES AT RECORD $251,100,000,000 A YEAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) —Incomes of individuals increased in June to a new record rate of $251,100,000,000 a year.

The Commerce Department, reporting this yesterday, said June personal incomes advanced $1,300,000,000 over May, on an annual rate basis, due chiefly to payroll increases of $500,000,000 each in private industry and in the Government.

Wage and salary receipts, up about 20 per cent since the Korean war began, moved to an annual rate of $166,100,000,000, with Government payrolls accounting for $28,800,000,000.

British Show Off Rapid-Fire Rifle But Fail to Convince West It's Best

WARMINSTER, England, Aug. 11 (AP)—Britain took the wraps off its new rapid-firing .280-caliber rifle in impressive tests yesterday, but failed to convince Western military men that it is the best weapon in its field.

The stockless weapon that looks much like a sub-machine gun was put through its paces before some 200 military attaches and 50 reporters.

The tests showed the new weapon can be fired faster than either the United States's semi-automatic .30-caliber Garand or the old British .303 bolt action Enfield, but lacks their penetration and shocking power.

The new weapon will be thoroughly checked, however, by a committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The group will report its findings to the Atlantic treaty Foreign Ministers this fall and they will decide whether to adopt the rifle for pact nations. At present the Garand is top nominee for the infantry weapon in proposed standardization of Western arms.

In yesterday's tests the new rifle poured out 24 shots a minute as compared to 43 for the Garand and 28 for the Enfield, but its penetration through wood proved slightly less than the American weapon.

The odd-looking machine has a small metal butt in place of the conventional stock, and carries a telescopic sight.

American observers objected to the new weapon on the ground that the ammunition it uses is too light to go up against enemy armor.

Meanwhile, in Ottawa the Canadian Defense Ministry said the Western allies have accepted a new anti-tank shell being made in Canada as a standard weapon.

The shell, called the "Sabot," was described as the "last word" in armor-piercing effectiveness. It is being produced for the anti-tank 17-pounder, but can be made in various sizes.

PLEVEN CABINET APPROVED IN VOTE AVOIDING DEBATE

Worst French Crisis Since War Ended by Action Equivalent to a Show of Confidence.

PARIS, Aug. 11 (AP)—Premier Rene Pleven and his new strongly conservative cabinet won what amounted to a vote of confidence today. The National Assembly voted 390 to 222 to postpone indefinitely an opposition request to debate the make-up of the cabinet.

Pleven had presented his cabinet to President Vincent Auriol earlier after an all-night squabble over who should get what job.

France's worst cabinet crisis since World War II ended in a breakfast-time meeting at the Elysee Palace during which the President served coffee instead of the traditional champagne to the new cabinet officers.

Pleven finally succeeded where seven other men had failed in the last 30 days. How long his cabinet could stay in office was doubtful.

Swing to Right Reflected.

Many observers felt that its life will not extend much past Parliament's summer recess which lasts until Oct. 23. But it appeared that Robert Schuman—renamed foreign minister—will have a government behind him when he attends meetings of the Big Three, the North Atlantic pact countries and the signing of the Japanese peace treaty, all scheduled for September.

The new cabinet reflected the swing to the right shown in the June 17 election. There are no Socialists in it. The cabinet also excludes Communists and right-wing followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Although the Socialists refused cabinet posts they are expected to give the new government their votes in the Assembly on international issues.

Parties in New Cabinet.

Cabinet members were chosen from the Popular Republican Movement (M.R.P.) a left of center Catholic group and the least conservative represented; the Radical Socialists (conservatives); independents and peasants; and the Democratic and Socialist Union of the Resistants to which Pleven himself belongs.

The 50-year-old Pleven was Premier earlier this year. He succeeds Henri Queuille whose government resigned July 10, after the elections. Queuille is minister of state in the new cabinet.

George Bidault of the M.R.P., another former premier was named as vice premier in charge of national defense. Rene Mayer of the Radical Socialist party was appointed second vice premier in charge of economic and financial affairs.

FORMER CURTIS CO. EMPLOYE ACCUSED OF $49,175 FRAUD

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11 (AP) —Magistrate Keller H. Gilbert yesterday held Wilmer Hanson, former assistant to the editor of Holiday Magazine, in $100,000 bail on charges of defrauding the Curtis Publishing Co. of $49,175.

Hanson, 40 years old, was arrested Thursday in Danbury, Conn., by Philadelphia county detectives Thomas Colligan and Thomas H. Taylor.

The Curtis company publishes Holiday.

Ford Robinson, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of Curtis, told Gilbert that Hanson had been authorized to sign cash requisition forms to pay other firms and individuals.

Hanson used these forms to misappropriate money for his own purposes, Robinson charged. The warrant on which Hanson was arrested said the fraud covered a period from May 13, 1947, to June 1, 1949. He was dismissed soon afterward.

Hanson was sent to the county prison at Holmesburg in default of bail to await grand jury action.

$20,000 SALES TAX SUIT BY KNETZER ESTATE TRUSTEE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 11—Suit to recover $20,000 in sales taxes paid by Robert L. Knetzer, bankrupt Edwardsville automobile dealer, for "new-used" cars he sold customers from 1945 to 1948, was filed in United States District Court yesterday.

G. William Horsley, attorney for William C. Dunham, trustee for Knetzer's estate, who brought the suit, said the sales tax payments were "a mistake of law and a mistake of fact." He asked for a hearing to air the trustee's objections.

Knetzer is under indictment in Madison and Jersey counties for conspiracy to defraud. He is accused of failing to deliver new automobiles or to make refunds to customers who gave down payments. His operations occurred immediately after the end of World War II when automobiles were scarce.

PAPER SAYS EGYPT WILL END TREATY WITH BRITAIN AUG. 25

CAIRO, Aug. 11 (AP) — The newspaper Al Ahram said today Egypt will cancel its much disputed treaty with Britain Aug. 25. The treaty was signed Aug. 26, 1936.

Al Ahram said Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohammed Salah El Din is preparing a statement for the Parliament, denouncing the treaty.

The paper said Nationalist groups are preparing celebrations for the cancellation of the treaty under which Britain garrisons the Suez canal. The Foreign Minister told Parliament earlier this week there was no hope of working out a revision of the treaty by negotiation with the British.

CLIFFORD GAYLORD HAS INSIDE TRACK FOR STATE G.O.P. COMMITTEEMAN

One of Three Persons Being Considered by Leaders to Restore Harmony—Other 2 Are A. D. Welsh, A. H. Kerth.

Clifford W. Gaylord, president of Gaylord Container Corp., has the "inside track" for selection as the next Republican national committeeman from Missouri, it was learned today.

He is one of three persons who have been receiving considerable attention from Republican leaders seeking a national committeeman to restore harmony within the party ranks. The other two are A. D. Welsh, St. Louis baby buggy manufacturer, and Alfred H. Kerth, attorney and former mayor of Clayton.

A Republican spokesman told the Post-Dispatch the "rank and file" members are tired of trying to be the "winning faction" within the party and would rather concentrate their efforts on being on the winning side in the elections.

Faction Leaders.

Missouri Republicans for a long time have been choosing sides between Howard V. Stephens, now national committeeman, and Barak T. Mattingly, former committeeman, leaders of opposing factions.

Stephens' alignment with one group within the party is certain to handicap his chances for retaining the post when a national committeeman is chosen at the Republican state convention next May, the spokesman said.

Gaylord, now a member of the Missouri Conservation Commission, is not seeking the committeeman job but would probably agree to take it if "drafted," it was said.

Selection of a national committeeman was one of the chief topics of a G.O.P. two-day "grass roots" rally that ended last night at Springfield, Mo.

St. Louisans at Meeting.

Party leaders from St. Louis were at the meeting, including Ancel A. Skaggs, chairman of the city committee, and Charles E. Albanese, aldermanic board chairman.

Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, in a talk criticizing the Truman Administration, declared that Morris Shenker, St. Louis criminal lawyer, "is officially honored by a spot on the Fair Deal finance committee."

Dirksen called attention to the Kansas City vote frauds and "the pardons for the ballot thieves within a year after they were convicted."

He told the 2000 delegates: "This is no time for kid gloves or soft words in the fight to preserve America's free economic system. This struggle is for keeps. We must identify those who would surrender to socialism and call them by their right names."

2 WOMEN PILOTS HERE, ARRANGING FOR RACE

Most of Flyers in All-Woman Cross-Country Contest Will Pass Through St. Louis.

Two California women flyers were in St. Louis today on a trail-blazing flight on behalf of the All-Woman Transcontinental Air Race which starts in California next Wednesday and is scheduled to end at the National Air Races in Detroit next Sunday.

Miss Rambo

Miss Ann Rambo, a counselor and instructor in aviation at Glendale College, and Miss Rita Patten, flight instructor at the Glendale (Calif.) airport, are visiting various cities designated as stopping places in the race. They are arranging for fast refueling, prompt weather service and a quick method for filing flight plans at each stop.

About 50 planes, ranging in horsepower from 65 to 300, are expected to take off in the race, which is run on a handicap basis to demonstrate flying skill rather than the capabilities of the plane, Miss Rambo said. Prizes range from $100 to $850. The race is sponsored by the Ninety-nines, a national organization of women pilots.

Miss Rambo said most of the flyers would be passing through St. Louis next Thursday and Friday unless bad weather intervenes. Purpose of the race, she said, was to demonstrate how women could be useful in flying persons, drugs, hospital supplies and the like in the event of a major disaster.

COUPLE CONFESSES TO BURGLARIES AT 20 CHURCHES

Carl P. Zabel, former convict, and his woman companion, who said she was Adel Laura Higdon, have admitted participating in the burglary of 20 churches and a number of business establishments during the last four months, police reported today.

They were arrested yesterday in a rooming house in the 3400 block of Lafayette avenue where police reported recovering a number of stolen typewriters, record players, items of sound equipment and other articles.

Zabel, who has served prison sentences in Arizona, Iowa, Illinois and Louisiana, admitted selling stolen office and public address equipment, police said. The Higdon woman accompanied him and remained outside while he committed the burglaries, police were told.

YOUTH KILLED IN FIGHT OVER PISTOL AT PARTY

William Bradford, 17-year-old Negro, was shot and killed at a party at 3045 Sheridan avenue last night.

Police are holding Caruthers Vaughn, 18, a Negro, who said a .45-caliber pistol was discharged as he and Bradford struggled over it. The bullet struck Bradford in the chest.

Vaughn, who lives in the 1100 block of North Compton avenue, told police he saw that Bradford had a pistol in his waistband and asked him to remove it. Bradford refused and a fight ensued, he said.

ST. LOUIS DOCTORS WARNED TO REPORT ANY MALARIA CASES

A single case of malaria could be the source of an outbreak of the disease here, Dr. J. Earl Smith, health commissioner, warned today. He urged physicians to report all cases immediately to the St. Louis Division of Health.

His request followed reports of a growing incidence of malaria among returning veterans of the fighting in Korea.

Dr. Smith pointed out that the anopheles mosquito, which carries the disease, is common here and that its numbers have increased this year because flood conditions have been favorable to breeding.

He urged that private physicians submit blood smears for microscopic examination to private laboratories or to the public health laboratory in the Municipal Courts Building in all cases where there are symptoms suspicious of malaria.

ACCUSED OF GETTING $3280 FROM BANKS ON BAD CHECKS

James F. Moore of Bismarck, Mo., was held in city jail today suspected of obtaining $3280 from two St. Louis banks through fraudulent checking accounts, in violation of the National Stolen Property Act.

Sought for the last several months by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Missouri Highway Patrol and St. Louis police, Moore was arrested last night at the Forest Park Hotel, where officers said he was registered under an assumed name.

The FBI said Moore opened one checking account last April by depositing a worthless check for $985 drawn on a Seattle bank. To open a second account in another St. Louis bank in May, he deposited a worthless $2295 check on a Portland (Ore.) bank, the FBI said. Officers said he withdrew almost the entire amount in both accounts by writing a series of checks from April through the middle of July. They declined to name the banks. Moore pleaded guilty in March 1950 to collecting $1000 illegally in G.I. Bill education benefits and was put on probation for a year by United States District Judge Roy W. Harper.

HOMICIDE VERDICT RETURNED IN EUREKA WOMAN'S DEATH

A verdict of homicide was returned today by a coroner's jury at Clayton in the death of Mrs. Lillian Anna Null, whose body was found in a clump of weeds behind her home in Eureka Wednesday.

Meanwhile, sheriff's deputies examined by microscope a half-brick found yesterday in a cornfield 25 feet from where a neighbor discovered the body, on the chance it may have been the weapon used to beat Mrs. Null to death.

Officers continued to question neighbors and examine the yard and house where Mrs. Null lived by herself. They believe the murder was committed Sunday night. The latched back screen door had been pulled open, but the only other direct signs of violence were at the spot where the body was found.

MAN KILLED IN CRASH WITH TRUCK DRIVEN BY ST. LOUISAN

A Kirksville (Mo.) man was killed last night when his automobile collided head-on with a transport truck driven by Calvin J. Smith, 2515 North Tenth street, near Grand Tower, Ill., about 95 miles southeast of St. Louis.

The victim was Marvin L. McCloud, who was hurled from his car under the truck wheels. His wife, Judy, was taken to a hospital at Murphysboro, Ill., suffering from shock and injuries. Smith is employed by the Walsh Freight Lines, Inc., 1600 North Ninth street.

VITAL STATISTICS SHORTAGE LIKELY TO TOTAL $16,500

8 Boxes Found of Applications for Birth Certificates Which Had Not Been Issued.

A shortage in the accounts of the Bureau of Vital Statistics may total $16,500, Comptroller Milton Carpenter said today, after an examination had been made of applications for birth certificates which had not been issued and for which deposits apparently had not been returned.

The shortage was estimated earlier at $11,500, but auditors placed in the office by Carpenter discovered eight boxes filled with applications for certificates which had not been issued. These were not issued because the births were not registered in St. Louis.

Deposits had been made with the applications, Carpenter said, but no record of their having been returned to the applicants was found. The practice in the office was to mark "deposits refunded" on such applications, but no such notation was found on any of the applications found in the eight boxes, Carpenter added.

The head of the bureau, Jesse B. Lasater, was suspended by Director of Public Welfare John J. O'Toole after the $11,500 discrepancy was found between the number of certificate forms which had been issued to the office and the amount of money turned over to the city. Lasater has denied responsibility.

3 RAIL EMPLOYES, INJURED AT WORK, SUE FOR $600,000

Damage suits seeking $600,000 for personal injuries suffered at work were filed yesterday in circuit court here by three railroad employes, two working in Colorado and the other in Oklahoma.

The largest suit was for $300,000 against the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, filed by J. J. Yates, a painter of La Junta, Colo. He alleged he suffered a back injury when a scaffolding fell as he was painting a bridge at Fowler. He fell between the rails and a train passed over him. He charged that the railroad was negligent in failing to provide warning signals.

The Santa Fe also was named in a $150,000 suit by Andrew S. Brandock of La Junta for injuries he suffered when a train on which he was an engineer collided with another near Newdale, Colo.

The third suit was by Ted D. Burner, a laborer of El Reno, Okla., who asked $150,000 from the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway for back injuries suffered when picking up a brake shoe in a diesel roundhouse at El Reno.

A common practice by attorneys of filing damage suits in circuit court here for persons suffering personal injuries at points distant from St. Louis has been criticized by legal authorities, who have noted that juries here are remarkably lavish in returning large verdicts against large corporations.

EAST SIDE KILLER FOUND FATALLY BEATEN IN PRISON

Fourteen inmates of the Southern Illinois Penitentiary at Menard were being questioned today in the death of Norman E. Kimme, East St. Louis, who was serving a 14-year murder sentence. Kimme was beaten to death early yesterday in the prison's boiler room.

Kimme was found unconscious and died an hour later in the prison hospital, Warden Browning Robinson reported. A piece of pipe, with which he apparently was struck on the head, was beside him.

The 14 convicts held were working in the adjoining engine room. Kimme, a Navy veteran, was sentenced for the murder of his former sweetheart, Mrs. William Owens, in August 1946. He was 28 years old. Randolph county authorities are investigating.

Two more St. Louis soldiers and a marine have been wounded in action in Korea, one for the second time, it was announced today by the Department of Defense.

Pvt. Kendall Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Huffman, 327 East Marceau avenue, wrote he suffered a bayonet wound in the back July 13 when North Korean troops made a surprise attack while his unit was sleeping. He said he was taken to a hospital in Korea.

Casey said he was struck in the left shoulder by mortar shell fragments. A former bottling plant worker, Casey entered the Marine Corps last Nov. 10 and was sent to Korea in May. His father, Jesse Casey, lives in Puxico, Mo.

BOY SERIOUSLY HURT IN FALL FROM REAR BUMPER OF TRUCK

David Dillingham, 12 years old, 10142 Lord drive, Riverview Gardens, is in St. Luke's Hospital with serious head injuries today as the result of falling from the rear of a truck near his home yesterday.

A delivery truck pulled into a driveway while David was playing at the home of Raymond Smith, 10053 Viscount drive, Riverview Gardens, with Raymond and two other boys. The boys asked the driver for a ride and were refused, deputy sheriffs were told.

David then sat on the truck's rear bumper, his youthful companions said, and fell off after the truck traveled about half a block. The driver apparently did not know the child was on the bumper and continued on his way, unaware of the accident.

FIRE SWEEPS ALTON APPLIANCE STORE, LOSS PUT AT $75,000

Fire of undetermined origin raged through the Alton Refrigeration Co., a retail electrical appliance store in Alton, early today causing damage estimated at $75,000.

Edwin D. Cox, owner of the store, said much of the damage was to his stock of television sets, radios and kitchen appliances. Firemen said the fire started in the radio-television department of the store. Cox, who made the damage estimate, said many appliances in a section of the store away from the fire were damaged by the intense smoke and heat.

Firemen assisted Mrs. Elizabeth Hazen, 65 years old, a widow, down a ladder from her home above the store. Her escape from the two-story brick building was blocked by heavy smoke. She was treated for smoke inhalation.

POLICEMAN FILES $81,000 SUIT AGAINST FORMER NEIGHBORS

Patrolman Joseph F. Taszarek filed suit for $81,000 yesterday against his former upstairs neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Thomann, who, he charged, injured him in a backyard fight at their residence at 8445 Newby street.

Thomann, a bartender, was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $100 last January for shooting Taszarek. The fight started after the officer was awakened by a loud radio and banging of doors. In the ensuing fight, he said, Thomann shot him twice and Mrs. Thomann stabbed him in the back.

The suit seeks $55,000 actual and $26,000 punitive damages. Taszarek has returned to duty.

Darst Rejects Plan to Consider Transit Issue at Special Session

Refusal to Put Problem on Aldermen's Agenda Means It Will Not Go Before Board Until October.

Mayor Joseph M. Darst yesterday rejected a proposal by Alderman Charles P. McBride that the question of adequate bus and streetcar service for the city be taken up in a special session of the Board of Aldermen to be held this month.

McBride, Republican floor leader in the board, commented that the need for better mass transportation "is so great" the Mayor should have included it in the special session agenda but, since he has refused, the matter will be presented to the regular session of the board which begins Oct. 19.

The Mayor said that he did not believe a six-point program offered yesterday by McBride was a proper topic for the special session. The program, McBride said, would make it possible for the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen to compel the St. Louis Public Service Co. to provide better mass transportation service.

McBride's proposals were, basically, for appointment of a city transportation expert; public hearings by the Board of Aldermen on Public Service routes and service; an immediate hearing on service before the Missouri Public Service Commission, instituted by the city; limit on number of passengers busses and streetcars could carry; city regulation of the company's fares and service, and consideration of the possibility of inviting transit competition into the city.

The Mayor commented that the city now has a transit expert in its Department of Public Utilities and that the Mayor's Mass Transportation Committee has held public hearings to get the riding public's views on transit needs.

The Mayor said that other points in McBride's proposals already are being studied by city officials. He added that he would welcome a resolution by the Aldermen indorsing a bill pending in the Legislature which would make a city official or a city department an agent of the Public Service Commission in dealing with the commission, with authority to make recommendations on fares, routes and service.

Director of Public Utilities Conway B. Briscoe, who joined the Mayor in the discussion of McBride's proposals, said the idea of inviting transit competition into the city was not feasible because the company operating now "isn't doing so good" financially.

"You can't force the company to provide service at less than cost," Briscoe added.

Briscoe also rejected McBride's suggestion for an immediate hearing before the Public Service Commission on transit service here with the explanation that he believed more could be accomplished in getting better service through informal meetings between city and company officials.

GIRL TEASED, STABS FRIEND, 11, TO DEATH

Children Fight When One Twits Other Over Wearing Cousin's Shoes.

A fight between two 11-year-old Negro girls, who had been good friends, ended last night when one of them was stabbed to death with a paring knife.

The dead girl is Elizabeth Buffington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Buffington, 2124 Gratiot street. Police are holding Norma Jean Palmer, who lives with an aunt, Mrs. Sarah Whiting, 2137A Gratiot, on a charge of delinquency by reason of homicide.

Norma Jean told police she and Elizabeth had been quarreling since Elizabeth teased her recently about wearing her cousin's shoes. They began carrying on the dispute by telephone.

Last night Norma Jean said she was sitting on a chair in front of Mrs. Ionie Ross's home at 2144 Gratiot when Elizabeth came by and resumed the dispute. The girls began fighting when Elizabeth pushed Norma Jean off her chair, police were told.

Witnesses said Elizabeth struck Norma Jean with a brick. Norma Jean then grabbed the paring knife, which she had secreted in her clothing, and in the struggle inflicted a deep wound in Elizabeth's shoulder, police reported. Women in the neighborhood separated the girls. Elizabeth was pronounced dead on arrival at Homer G. Phillips Hospital.

MISSOURI AIR NATIONAL GUARD GROUP LEAVES FOR CAMP

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

The 157th Aircraft Control and Warning Group, Missouri Air National Guard, left today by motor convoy for Camp Williams, Wis., for special training prior to entering active federal service November 1.

In the two weeks at Camp Williams, the unit will receive training in air defense operations, with emphasis on controlled intercepts using radar, Lt. Col. Ross E. Garlich, acting group commander, said. Training at the camp will begin Monday.

The group, which includes about 650 men from St. Louis and squadrons from Indianapolis and Fort Dodge, Ia., has not learned where it will be sent in federal service, Col. Garlich said. The Indiana and Iowa squadrons will take part in the two weeks' training at Camp Williams.

A 40-minute absence from his home at 749 Ruprecht avenue, Lemay, last night cost O. C. Fisher the loss of $20 in currency and $140 in jewelry, including a wristwatch and a ruby ring, he reported to police.

Fisher left his home at 9:10 p.m., he told deputy sheriffs, and returned by a rear door at 9:50 p.m. As Fisher entered, an intruder left hurriedly by the front entrance. The burglar apparently entered by cutting a window screen.

FINED $100 IN THEFT OF SLEEPING MAN'S AUTO WITH HIM IN IT

Robert Brownridge, 17-year-old Negro, was fined $100 on charges of careless driving and destruction of property growing out of a wild chase early yesterday, after police saw him driving an automobile that had been stolen while its owner slept in it.

When picked up in the stolen machine at Compton avenue and Market street, Brownridge told officers the new Buick belonged to his uncle. When told to proceed to the Ninth District station, he sped away at 60 miles an hour. The pursuit ended in the 2200 block of Market where Brownridge hit a stop sign.

He told Police Judge James H. Connor he was only telling the truth when officers questioned him. However, he told police earlier that he and a companion noticed Eugene Daniel Sweeney, 5238 Nottingham avenue, asleep in the machine on Market, moved Sweeney, from behind the wheel, drove him to Forest Park, took him out of the car, removed his wallet and left him still asleep on the grass.

Warrants charging theft of an automobile and larceny from a person have been issued against Brownridge. His companion still is being sought.

OLIVER G. CHAPMAN WILL IS CONTESTED

Cousins Charge He Was Mentally Incapable, Influenced by Main Beneficiary.

Suit to set aside the will of Oliver G. Chapman, city license collector from 1918 to 1934, was filed in circuit court today by two of his cousins who charged Chapman was mentally incapable of making a will at the time and was subject to undue influence by the principal beneficiary.

The plaintiffs, William H. Glorious of Bellevue, Wash., and Elmer Glorious of Seattle, were left $7500 each but the will directed the residue of the estimated $100,000 estate to be given to a life-long friend, Mrs. Agnes Weick, 3525 Victor street.

Chapman, a 71-year-old bachelor without heirs except for the two cousins, died Aug. 20, 1950. The will, made a year earlier, stated the gift to Mrs. Weick was "in recognition of a stanch and devoted friendship." She is the widow of Frank Weick, funeral director who died in 1925.

The petition alleges that because of ill health and failing memory, Chapman was incapable of making a will when it was executed and charged that he had been unduly influenced by Mrs. Weick. Mrs. Weick and the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co., executors under the will, were named defendants.

QUEENIE SMITH, STAR OF '30S, IN AUDIENCE AT PARK OPERA

Queenie Smith, Municipal Opera star of the early 1930s, attended the Thursday night performance of "The Merry Widow" and expressed amazement at the changes and expansion which have taken place in the Forest Park theater since she last appeared here in a 1934 performance of "Sally."

Miss Smith now lives in Hollywood, where she is a West Coast talent scout for Municipal Opera. She stopped over in St. Louis on her way to Westport, Conn., where she will appear for one week in summer stock.

She said her greatest thrill Thursday night was sitting with the audience. It was the first time she had seen a Municipal Opera performance from out front.

Pitra, 28 years old, was found on the tracks by the crew of a switch engine being operated for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. The engineer, Edward Bone of Greenville, Ill., said his engine was not involved in the accident.

The injured man was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

EAST SIDE TENTATIVE BUDGET FOR SCHOOLS AT RECORD HIGH

An increase of $228,745 in operating costs for the East St. Louis School District was revealed in a tentative budget adopted yesterday for the coming fiscal year. The budget will be voted on Sept. 13 by the Board of Education.

The budget, which totals $3,663,601, is the highest ever to be considered by the board. Most increases resulted from $184,147 in wage rises voted for teachers and other employes.

Other items which boosted the budget resulted from increased school facilities.

Some Employers Paying Too Much Jobless Tax, Confused as to Base

Some employers in St. Louis and other parts of Missouri are paying more unemployment compensation taxes than the law requires, Charles A. Ricker, director of the Missouri Division of Employment Security, said yesterday.

Ricker said the overpayments resulted when some employers based the tax payments on the first $3600 of a worker's wage each year instead of only $3000, the actual ceiling on the tax base.

Apparently those who are paying more than necessary are confusing the unemployment tax with the social security tax for old age and survivors' insurance, he said. The latter tax is paid by both employers and employes on the first $3600 in wages each year. Congress increased that figure from $3000 to $3600 last Jan. 1.

Adjustments will be made for the overpayments, Ricker said.

He pointed out that the state's unemployment compensation reserve fund had reached the record high balance of $209,577,086 and that a $23,000,000 undivided surplus now is being apportioned as credit to employers' accounts.

"With all that money in the United States Treasury, there's no need of Missouri employers overdoing it," Ricker said. "We don't need the excess money, and I wish the employers would cease and desist from making overpayments."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Muddled Thinking

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The special contribution to the editorial section entitled "That Franco Deal" was another illustration of the use of partial truths and untruths to mold public opinion. It was also a product of either accidentally or deliberately muddled thinking.

This writer does not subscribe to dictatorship of any kind, including the Franco style. But Franco is one man in Europe who has been totally anti-Communist on his record. Certainly it is no more a violation of principle to send military aid to Spain than it is to Tito-controlled, Communistic Yugoslavia.

The adherence of France and Britain to "principle" in the case of Franco is quite ludicrous. France requires a coalition government, composed of many parties, to keep the Communists from controlling the government.

Britain's Socialist Government, which has done business as usual with Communist China, and is on record as favoring the admission of the Red Government into the United Nations, is extremely hard pressed for reasons when it invokes the defense of principle as its objection to giving aid to Franco.

Some clear and unbiased thinking will reveal that Spain is strategically important to the defense of Western Europe by reason of its proximity to Gibraltar, the Atlantic entrance to the Mediterranean. Spain has some 400,000 troops, which if trained and properly equipped, would be of no small value in Europe against the Communist hordes. Air bases and ports of entry for troop and war ships could be adequately defended should France again be overrun.

I suspect that the opposition to Franco goes somewhat deeper than the objection to dictatorship itself, and extends to the "type" of dictatorship that exists. JOHN J. HOGAN.

Graves In Calvary

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

After reading in your paper that headstones had been removed from graves at Calvary, we went out recently, as we have two lots in Section 9. If we hadn't known just where they were, we could never have found them. We had markers of stone on each corner and the headstone was very solid. But there is no mark of any kind now, only a deep hole where the headstone was dug out. How are they allowed to do this? Are they going to sell these lots over?

I am sure there are going to be many heartsick persons when they go out there and can't find the graves of their loved ones. HELEN HAGAN.

Orchids

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Orchids to you for uncovering the fees paid the Democratic National Chairman.

Drew Pearson Sunday said that the Republican National Chairman has done the same thing, on an even bigger scale. Hope you will verify that and expose him also. Yours seems to be one of the very few truly independent newspapers left in these United States. Congratulations! J. L. STEVENS.

More on West Point

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

No doubt there are contributing factors, but most of the blame can be placed on the military academy itself. More specifically, the fault lies in the so-called "honor system," noble in intent but impossible in application.

When a young man dons the cadet uniform, his character and inner nature are not changed. He is still a very eager young man who realizes he faces a gruelling academic test—that failure anywhere along the line will mean dismissal from his life-long dream.

Finding themselves in this position, a high percentage of these men will cheat if given the opportunity. If we believe a magic metamorphosis accompanies an appointment to a service academy, the situation at hand should dispel any such illusion.

In my entire course at the Naval Academy, I never saw a single instance of cheating. The reason was simple. Every examination was very well proctored and all knew the punishment for any such attempt. Undoubtedly there were many who would have cheated if afforded the opportunity. If the truth were told, the West Point honor system probably failed long before the present exposure.

The solution lies not in a football de-emphasis nor in any other suggestion which ignores fundamental causes. Rather, I believe it lies in a general rebuilding of our nation's morals and, in the long interim, a practically supervised and well-proctored grading system at the military academy.

JOHN DAVID CALLAHAN,
U.S. Naval Academy '45.

Newburg, N.Y.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

After 38 years of college teaching, one may venture to give West Point a friendly bit of advice. Because of the breakdown of moral standards, it is high time to abandon the so-called honor system. In a carefully supervised examination the competent will pass, and the incompetent will fail without disgrace. H. S. FICKE.

What Is So Rare . . . ?

Freedom Is a Printed Word

The printed word is one of the chief means through which free peoples keep well enough informed to operate free governments. So the conference of 14 nations which is in progress at Washington, to make the scarce world supply of newsprint serve all the free nations as fully as possible, is just as much a part of the struggle between the free and slave states as E.C.A. or N.A.T.O.

"The serious, immediate need is for more and bigger papers, books and periodicals if we are to avoid democratic anemia," a Liberal member of the British Parliament, Edgar Granville, said three years ago. At about the same time, in our own country, the then Secretary of Interior, Julius A. Krug, said the continuing newsprint shortage constituted "a serious threat to economic survival of many small and medium-sized newspapers."

More recently Dr. Jaime Torres Bodet, director general of the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, said the shortage constituted such a danger to newspapers and schools that Unesco could not neglect it. For serious though the newsprint shortage is in this country, the United States is the most favored nation in newsprint supply.

• • •

In Europe the situation is so bad that Sam Eubanks, executive vice president of the American Newspaper Guild, said "the press has almost been obliterated by the absence of newsprint." In Asia and much of Latin-America it has produced "an iron curtain of the mind," according to Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor.

The world newsprint problem is to a large extent the problem of a Canadian newsprint monopoly, the largest of all the world's suppliers. This monopoly declines to produce enough to supply the demand, raises the prices so high that the solvency of many newspapers is threatened and yet apparently keeps the prices from going high enough to encourage competition to arise.

Thanks to the discovery that newsprint could be made from southern pine, paper mills in this country are now supplying about 17 per cent of the country's demand. But that is not enough to provide real competition for the Canadian monopoly, and there is insufficient evidence that it would be used competitively in any event. Virtually the entire American newsprint industry is inter-related with that of Canada through common corporate relationships, the vice chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Donald Cook, reported after an investigation. Independent enterprisers, with sufficient volume, could give competition to this Canadian-American monopoly.

One of the biggest opportunities for them lies in the Tongass National Forest of Alaska. Another 20 per cent of American demand could be supplied from the spruce trees there if power plants and paper mills were established.

• • •

The fairer rationing of newsprint which the conferees are seeking at Washington is a highly essential stopgap, but it is only a stopgap. Introduction of effective competition into the world newsprint industry is one of the long-run solutions. Research into new raw materials of newsprint is another, and it can also contribute to a healthier competition.

Here there are more than a few hopeful developments. In addition to the production from pine, experiments are being made in producing newsprint from bagasse, the waste of sugar cane, in Massachusetts and Florida; from wheat, straw, oats and other farm products in Kansas; from lespedeza in Arkansas; from straw and grass in Ohio, and from bamboo, salai trees, and paper mulberry trees in India.

Thus the forces of scientific research and of free, progressive enterprise are united in an effort to produce the paper on which can be imprinted all those words of information and discussion which are implicit in that one big word, "Freedom."

What Belgium Is Doing

Every now and then somebody in Congress irately demands to know what our allies abroad are doing to help defend themselves, and the Belgian Government has just published a modest booklet which tells what one small ally is doing. Belgium is doing a good deal.

That nation has prolonged compulsory military training for 24 months. It has put 81,000 men under arms, and plans to have 163,000 men in uniform in 1954. The number may seem small to Americans, but it will represent 13 per cent of Belgium's total male population of military age.

In two years Belgium has spent $640,000,000 on purely defense items. This, again, may seem a small sum, but it is 9 per cent of the national income. The United States was spending a lesser share of its national income on defense at the beginning of the year. Both countries are, of course, increasing their arms expenditures tremendously.

That is the record of Belgium. Will those who challenge the good faith of our allies study it?

Political Lesson From Israel

The practical weaknesses of proportional representation have again been demonstrated by the election returns from Israel. In theory, the system is ideal because it gives a voice to virtually all shades of opinion. The theory, however, assumes that government is an intellectual process, a process of fair-minded compromise. Actually, government is often a power struggle between more or less antithetic groups. If no one of these groups can command a parliamentary majority, the result is an uneasy coalition or downright disorder.

So Israel is in a position almost as unhappy as that of France. Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's Mapai party won 45 of the 120 seats in the Knesset, one less than it held in the last session. Next in order came the General Zionists with 20 seats, and considerably behind them were a dozen other parties, representing widely varying political and religious convictions. Looking at this parliamentary line-up, Ben-Gurion already concedes that new elections may have to be called.

He will try, first, to form a coalition. His party reportedly has rejected a coalition with the General Zionists, whose relationship to Mapai is, roughly, that of the Liberty League to the New Deal. He has rejected foreign policy concessions to the Mapam (extreme left-wing Socialists) and any thought of co-operation with the Communists. Even if he is again ready to compromise his differences with the religious groups, it will take super-statesmanship to induce them to work in harness with each other.

Maybe he can bring it off. There is a genuine devotion to democracy in Israel and a definite pulling back from the extremes of right and left. These are helpful factors. There also is a growing realization that Israel seems destined to provide a new center of power in a politically disintegrating Near East. On the other hand, the development of a new nation has brought out many internal differences. The diverse elements in the rapidly growing population have not yet come together on what should be the chief characteristics of life in this new homeland.

It is not easy to bring forth a common national spirit overnight, especially not under the pressures of economic austerity and hostile neighbors. That is why it may be fortunate that Israel has not yet drawn up its permanent constitution. There is a chance that current experiences may be turned into eventual wisdom. When it is finally written, the constitution may firm up the idealism of proportional representation with some practical limitations.

Facts and William Boyle

President Truman says he has examined the facts and has found nothing against William M. Boyle Jr. And a Senate subcommittee says it has reached no conclusions but is still "trying to get the facts." There is a contrast here, and a question.

Did the President reach his conclusion on the basis of facts which the Senators are still trying to find, on the basis of facts known to the public, or on the basis of facts known only at the White House?

The facts as disclosed by the Post-Dispatch are that American Lithofold Corp. of St. Louis tried three times to get an RFC loan, and did not get one until it put Mr. Boyle on its payroll. Mr. Boyle was then No. 2 man in the Democratic party headquarters, as assistant to the chairman, and has since become national chairman himself.

Mr. Truman concedes it would be "highly improper" for a party chairman to use government contacts for private gain. But he adds:

> The facts I have obtained indicate that Mr. Boyle had nothing to do with the approval of these loans by the RFC.

Perhaps, then, the Senate investigators will obtain some facts to show just why Mr. Boyle was put on the American Lithofold payroll. What services did he perform? The president of the company said he performed none.

Whatever Mr. Truman's facts may be, the facts known publicly do not add up to an easy defense of Mr. Boyle. Fortunately Senator Hoey and his colleagues are not satisfied with that assumption.

The Prospect on Prices

In the year following the invasion of Korea, the cost of living rose about 9 per cent. Economic Stabilization Director Eric Johnston now estimates that in the coming year, living costs may rise from 5 to 8 per cent.

If Mr. Johnston's worst fears are realized, then, the prospect is for a rate of inflation just about the same as that which has taken place up to now. Since for about six months of the first year after Korea there were no stabilization controls at all, apart from the Government's ineffective appeals for "voluntary self-restraint," it appears that the new controls law, as detoothed by Congress, will offer not much more of a brake on inflation than was offered by non-governmental economic forces last year.

Mr. Johnston's estimates may, of course, be mistaken, and everybody will hope they are. But they emphasize anew the unsatisfactory character of the new controls law. This will prompt some citizens to wonder what became of President Truman's promise to demand revision of the most crippling provisions of the law from Congress.

Is the Administration going to keep trying to put teeth in the law? Or will it be content to inveigh against the law without seriously trying to change it?

So the People May Know

Two New England newspapers deserve a round of applause for successful fights in behalf of access to information for the benefit of their readers.

The New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times battled for a year and a half for the right to report meetings of the New Bedford School Board before the board members yielded. In Providence, R.I., the Journal and Bulletin devoted three years to a court fight for the right to inspect city tax abatement records.

How, we wonder, could the authorities in either case have felt they were acting wisely in withholding this information from the press? Surely, the people of New Bedford are entitled to know how their $300,000 in school funds is spent each year. The same holds true with respect to public tax records in Providence—or any other city.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors is serving the country as well as the press in its national efforts to open up public news sources which have been closed. And it is to the credit of Editor & Publisher, the publishing trade publication, that it makes a point of calling attention to each such battle and to each victory.

Without even waiting 22 more days, the truce negotiators at Kaesong might get together and sing "September Song." That's the one that goes, "I haven't got time for a waiting game."

Bunche to Russia?

When Averell Harriman retired as United States ambassador to the Soviet Union, he recommended that Ralph Bunche, the Negro diplomat, be appointed as his successor. Nothing came of the suggestion, and Mr. Bunche is still serving the United Nations.

New life, however, is being pumped into the idea in Washington. Several senators, including Moody of Michigan, are said to have obtained White House assurances that it will be reconsidered.

We certainly believe it is worth a second thought. Russian propaganda makes much of racism in the United States. Here, then, is a chance to send an able diplomat to Moscow and, at the same time, to deliver a strong counter-blow to the Red line, and one which could hardly be kept from the Russian people.

The State Department is said to fear that Mr. Bunche's selection might encourage politicians to press for appointments for other representatives of racial and religious groups. This, however, seems a slight handicap. It can easily be met by saying that Mr. Bunche was chosen on the basis of his talents and abilities. He certainly can stand on his own feet.

One Pilot for One River

The Mirror of Public Opinion

After each flood, there is a restudy of river valley programs; this raises doubts about billions spent on such unintegrated plans; TVA's success proves valleys must be handled as units; exact management is not so important as basic principle of unity.

From The Milwaukee Journal

The Missouri Basin Interagency Committee, made up of governors of the basin states and heads of federal agencies working in the valley, has voted to reassess the Missouri improvement program. The reason? The devastation caused by the Kansas river flood—in an area in which the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation have worked extensively.

In the same way, the Columbia Basin Interagency Committee voted to restudy the Columbia improvement program after the great flood of 1948 wiped Vanport, Ore., off the map, drowned 28 people, rendered 100,000 homeless and did $80,000,000 damage.

These after-the-flood actions raise serious questions concerning valley improvements on which we are spending billions. The Columbia works were started in the 1930s, yet the integration of the program for flood control, navigation, power and irrigation was not thoroughly studied until 1948. To this day there is no single, overall agency to see that integration is carried out.

The Missouri improvement got under way in earnest after adoption of the Pick-Sloan plan in 1944, which divided the work between the Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau. These agencies pledged co-operation and there has been co-operation, in contrast to some earlier Western programs in which there was rivalry. But co-operation is not the same as over-all direction.

Now turn to the Tennessee, where a river valley has been treated as a unit under a single authority. The structures were located strategically to do the most good in flood control. At the same time work on the upland tributaries was started, including forest cover to retain rainfall. The whole program moved forward, so that when dams and levees were in place they had no greater burden than they could bear.

The TVA recognized that it had in Chattanooga—located in a horseshoe bend of the river—the most vulnerable city in the nation. It prepared to protect Chattanooga, not in that horseshoe bend but many miles upstream.

What is the record? The Tennessee had a major flood-producing rain in 1948. If the water had come down on Chattanooga, the damage, it is estimated, would have been $13,500,000. The actual damage was limited to $160,000. Since the Norris dam was built in 1936, the saving to Chattanooga from floods is estimated at $45,000,000.

The TVA has demonstrated beyond doubt that a valley program must be a unit and that all parts of it must be moved forward simultaneously by an over-all authority.

Whether that authority should be merely a duplication of TVA, as is urged for the Missouri by Senator Murray of Montana, or some variation that would permit regional representation on the board of management, is immaterial. It is the principle of unity that counts.

Or So It Seems

From The Commonweal

It seems that Billy told Joyce "something" (nobody knows what for sure, but Walter, Leonard, Earl and Ed are all prepared to make a stab) and Joyce, she "blacked out, I guess." It seems that after she "blacked out" she decided to cut her wrists.

It seems then that Billy "let himself go," called the cops and they came, beat down the door and rescued Joyce. Then it seems that Billy said, "This is a time when a man needs a wife," so Billy telephoned Eleanor and she and the butler came right away.

It seems that after they got Joyce to the hospital Milton came to the kid's bedside but it also seems that the first reports that he held her hand were not true.

It seems that Billy pleaded with the cops to avoid publicity because "this might ruin me," but that the cops stuck to the letter of the law and there was publicity galore—big, black headline publicity, the kind that Billy used to thrive on. Moreover it seems that Milton did love Joyce once. God knows, but there probably won't be a third marriage for them because he doesn't love her any more. "How long can a guy carry a torch?"

It also seems that Joyce is not in love with Billy but is simply a very ambitious young woman who would rather be a star in her own right than one of the most beautiful (one of the first 10, maybe first five: Earl Wilson) women in the world and that accounts for the slashing.

It seems that all his friends hope this will teach Billy a lesson and that his and Eleanor's marriage will be stronger than ever because of it. Likewise it seems that Joyce's many, many friends along the Stem are prepared to forget the whole incident within a week.

And it seems that Korean peace negotiations, Eisenhower's efforts in Europe, the defense of the West, the phony trials in Hungary and Czechoslovakia and just about anything else with which this magazine is normally concerned become second-page material when a story like the Rose-Mathews-Holm-Berle one breaks.

It seems that this is the way the world ends, this is the way the world ends, this is the way the world ends, not with a bang but a whimper.

Upsetting the Federal Pay Scale

From The Washington Post

The House Civil Service Committee's proposal to raise the pay of all Federal and District classified workers by a flat $400 ignores an important consideration. The result, of course, would be to give lower percentage increases in pay to employes in the higher grades.

As it is, federal pay scales in the higher grades are too low in relation to the lower grades. The salaries of Government officials with heavy executive responsibilities are lower than those paid men occupying comparable positions in private employment. Consequently, it is difficult for the Government to recruit and hold key men.

The Federal Classification Act of 1949 corrected the worst inequalities resulting from the practice of granting all employes the same dollar raises or giving higher percentage increases to those in the lower grades. Regardless of whether classified workers are given pay increases of 8.4 per cent as proposed by the Senate Civil Service Committee, or 7 per cent, as recommended by the President, it is extremely important to avoid upsetting existing relationships in pay rates.

This can be done only by rejecting the House committee's plan for uniform dollar increases in pay applicable to all grades and by approving an across-the-board percentage increase.

His Majesty's Ship Amethyst

YANGTSE INCIDENT: THE STORY OF H. M. S. AMETHYST, APRIL 20, 1949, TO JULY 31, 1949, by Lawrence Earl. (Alfred A. Knopf, N.Y., 240 pgs., $3.)

Hanson W. Baldwin in the New York Times.

To most Americans—and perhaps to some Britishers—His Majesty's Ship Amethyst is hardly even a name. Yet for 101 days, from April into July of 1949, this 1490-ton frigate (gunboat) and her ship's company was a pawn of power politics, trapped by Chinese Communist batteries in a narrow stretch of the Yangtse Kiang, 140 miles from blue water.

Her ordeals—the initial, brief and unprovoked attack by the Chinese, which killed 23 (including her captain) and wounded 31 of the Amethyst's crew of 183 and holed the ship 53 times; the long, weary imprisonment under the Communist shore batteries, and her final running of the gantlet to safety—all are described in simple and homely detail by Lawrence Earl, a young Canadian reporter now working in London. The book has a brief foreword by Commander J. S. Kerans, one-time Assistant British Naval Attache in Nanking, who was sent to the Amethyst's aid when she was attacked, remained to become her new skipper and took her to the sea in her eventual dash to safety.

Capt. Kerans

Commander Kerans notes in his foreword that the Amethyst's enforced stay in the Yangtse "has no parallel in history," yet in the perpetual warfare of Asia the attack upon the Amethyst was merely another of a long series of "incidents", involving the ships and men-of-war of several nations on the one side and Chinese brigands, revolutionists and Communists and the Japanese on the other.

Another name of a gallant little ship, faded now in memory, the U.S.S. Panay, comes to mind. The Panay, a river gunboat, was sunk in the Yangtse in an unprovoked attack by Japanese bombers near Nanking on the Yangtse Kiang in December 1937, in one of those incidents that led slowly but inexorably to World War II.

The Amethyst's adventure—despite her casualties and the sizable casualties suffered by other British men-of-war that tried to come to her aid—ended more happily than the Panay's, but whether it, too, will some day be recorded by historians as one of the milestones leading to World War III will be determined in large measure by ruthless men in the Kremlin.

The author tells his story chiefly from the decks of the Amethyst, though the fortunes of her wounded are followed as they struggle ashore and to safety. The ship is his stage and her crew his players; the drama—complete down to bloody decks and weevils in the flour—is re-created out of the mouths of the men who lived it.

This is the story of good against evil all over again—a true adventure story, climaxed by the Amethyst's mad night-time dash to freedom down the boiling, flood-swollen Yangtse, past Communist shore batteries and booms—back to the open sea. This is the stuff for Hollywood.

The reader will come away with respect for the British seaman, and a conviction that Commander Kerans' final signal after the Amethyst's escape will be remembered whenever men of the sea foregather:

"HAVE REJOINED THE FLEET. AM SOUTH OF WOOSUNG. NO DAMAGE OR CASUALTIES. GOD SAVE THE KING."

SECOND LARGEST HARVEST IS SEEN BY GOVERNMENT

Floods and Dry Weather Caused Some Damage to Crops but Over-all Production Is Good.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Floods and dry weather caused some damage to crops last month, but over-all production prospects point to the second largest harvest in history, the Agriculture Department reported today.

Weather factors resulted in declines for such important crops as corn, wheat, barley, flaxseed, potatoes and tobacco.

But these were partly offset by improvement in the outlook for hay, oats, rice, sugar beets, dry beans and peas.

The department said, in its August crop report, that several million acres of crops were destroyed by floods, principally in Kansas, Missouri and Illinois.

The latest estimate dropped the wheat crop below a billion bushels for the first time since 1943. However, the department said the indicated crop, plus reserves, would be more than ample to meet all needs.

Floods also cut slightly into the corn crop. But as in the case of wheat, large reserves will protect the country against shortages.

The department said the aggregate volume of all crops was indicated to be 34 per cent above the 1923-32 average. This compares with the record of 38 per cent above the 1923-32 average set in 1948.

The Department of Agriculture forecast this year's corn crop at 3,206,992,000 bushels and wheat at 998,286,000 bushels.

For corn, this was a decrease of 88,051,000 bushels from 3,295,143,000 forecast a month ago.

For wheat, the forecast was a decrease of 71,846,000 bushels from 1,070,132,000 estimated a month ago.

Winter wheat was forecast at 650,-738,000 bushels, compared with 705,-749,000 a month ago.

Spring wheat other than durum was put at 347,548,000 bushels, compared with 322,477,000 last month.

Durum wheat was reported at 36,-870,000 bushels, compared with 40,906,-000 last month.

The August estimate of production of other crops compared with last month's forecast last year's production and the 10-year average, respectively, included:

Oats—1,393,323,000 bushels for August, 1,367,967,000 for July, 1,465,134,-000 last year and 1,311,651,000 for the 10-year average.

Barley—255,131,000 bushels, 262,590,-000, 301,009,000 and 305,523,000.

Rye—25,138,000 bushels, 25,648,000, 22,977,000 and 30,173,000.

WHEAT AT KANSAS CITY ADVANCES ON CROP CUT

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)—Spurred by yesterday's lower crop estimates, wheat futures went upgrade briskly on the Kansas City Board of Trade early tdoay and maintained the gains.

The market also appeared to have attracted outside buying that ordinarily would have gone to Chicago, which was closed today.

At the close, wheat futures were about 1@1¼c higher than yesterday, with September at $2.33⅞@¾.

The market absorbed hedging pressure from continued fairly liberal receipts without much affect on prices. Arrivals here today totaled 454 cars.

Grain sorghums bounced up sharply, with the December delivery bouncing up as much as 4¼ cents at one time. The Government forecast of the 1951 crop at 157,000,000 bushels was 80,000,000 less than harvested last year. Prices closed 2¼@4c higher.

WEEK'S STOCKS LOWER ON MODERATE TRADE

Market Sets New Highs Since 1930 Early in Period—Meets Profit Sales.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (UP)—Stocks declined during the past week on moderate trading. The market set new highs since 1930 early in the week and then encountered profit-taking later which left the major indexes lower on the week. The industrial average lost a little more than a dollar and the rails a little less than 50 cents. Utilities were off around a quarter.

The upturn on Monday came after some further profit-taking in some of the recent leaders. Oils met generous support. Then profit-taking reduced prices all around. A freight rate increase helped the railroads for a time but was not of sufficient size to set off a broad recovery in this backward division. Rails, however, had several firm spots despite the loss in their average. Industrials were higher in many instances too. Utilities lost only a shade and their group met good demand at times on increasing investor interest. A few issues registered wide advances and a few had wide declines on the week.

Among the better gainers were Atlantic Coast Line, up 2⅛; Magma Copper, up 2¼; Mead Corp., up 2¼; Mead Second Preferred, up 5¼; and Chrysler, up 2. The last rose on its report showing high earnings despite a sharp increase in costs and taxes. Chrysler retained the $2 dividend paid in the first two quarters.

Among the wider losers were Monsanto, off 5⅛; Merck, off 2½; Dow, off 4¾ and Goodyear, off 3¾.

The main list of stocks showed only small net changes and was uninteresting except for a handful of features. Volume continued light.

Business news was not bad for the market and a long list of companies showed good earnings reports. A few declared higher dividends.

MAJ. KENNETH MURPHY, senior regimental chaplain of the 138th Infantry Regiment, Missouri National Guard, at work in his headquarters tent at Camp Ripley, Minn. He is pastor of Compton Hill Congregational Church. At left is SGT. FIRST CLASS WILLIAM L. SIMMONS of 67 Briarcliff, Ladue, a law student at Washington University. The annual two weeks of summer field training of the St. Louis regiment ends today.

13 Churches Represented at Eden Institute on Racial Relations

Representatives from 13 Protestant denominations and from 14 states attended the second annual Institute on Racial and Cultural Relations this week at Eden Seminary, Webster Groves. There were also delegates from one Hebrew congregation and several local councils of churches and church women.

Sessions opened Monday noon and closed yesterday. One of three similar institutes held across the country this year, the Eden institute was sponsored jointly by the National Council of Churches and the Congregational Christian churches.

"It is futile to try to define race relations exclusively in terms of prejudice," Dr. Herman H. Long of Nashville, Tenn., said in an address at a general meeting of the institute. He is director of the Race Relations Department of the American Missionary Association, Congregational Christian churches.

"The frontal attack is not the best method of meeting the problem of prejudice today," Dr. Long declared. "Rather, prejudice should be recognized as an inclusive part of the major problems of society, such as housing, employment and economic security."

The keynote address of the institute was given by the Rev. Jefferson P. Rogers of Cleveland, race relations secretary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The Rev. Mr. Rogers said he had found in many Protestant churchmen "timidity in the face of increasing national and international tensions. This means," he added, "that a church may become a haven for respectability without responsibility.

"It is in this sense of religion and of being religious," he continued, "that I aver it is becoming increasingly more difficult for sensitive men to remain religious. Because the quality of life is determined more by the total involvement of the person—that is, by the things he supports and the atmosphere he creates—one's verbal commitment to a way of life can become virtually unimportant . .

"Protestantism will have to acquire the strength to change patterns rather than to spend its energy in attempting to better false patterns. Because race is the major social problem of American life and insinuates itself into all of our social institutions, it is the very first problem with which Protestants ought to cope."

Jewish-Christian relations were discussed by Rabbi Ferdinand M. Isserman of Temple Israel.

"Jewish-Christian relations," he pointed out, "are very old—as old as Christianity itself, which was born in the very womb of Judaism. In the United States, these relations are best on the religious level, and especially where both Judaism and Christianity are liberal. Here, indeed, we are so close spiritually that the abysses have been overcome."

Pointing out that liberal rabbis and ministers often exchange pulpits, Rabbi Isserman said, "Thus the United States is setting the world an example in inter-faith amity."

National Offices Missouri Synod Moved to 210 North Broadway.

The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod this week was moving its national headquarters into the six-story building at 210 North Broadway, where the Post-Dispatch was published for many years.

The church has maintained national offices in the Concordia Publishing House building at 3558 South Jefferson avenue. The task of transporting office equipment, files and supplies to the new location was begun Monday and is expected to be completed next Wednesday. The Broadway building has been completely remodeled for use as denominational offices.

The president of the church, the Rev. Dr. John W. Behnken, who moved to St. Louis this summer from Oak Park, Ill., will have offices on the third floor. Other floors will provide space for the four main departments of the church, fiscal, education, missions and stewardship.

The national staff of the church numbers some 230 persons.

Formal dedication of the new headquarters will take place on Sunday, Sept. 16.

Garver More Than a Pitcher In Gaining His 14th Decision; Gets 4-for-4 Against Tigers

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Aug. 11—Ned Garver, Clifford Mapes, Jim Delsing and kindred characters in St. Louis uniforms spoiled for Charlie Gehringer the opening game of his regime as general manager of the Detroit Tigers.

Gehringer officially succeeded Billy Evans at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Five hours later he came back to Briggs Stadium to see what the Tigers could do against the Browns.

With 20,761 paying spectators, Gehringer saw Garver and his supporting cast dominate the evening. At the finish, the Browns had their second victory of the series. They will try to make it three straight this afternoon with Duane Pillette (5-11) pitching against Dizzy Trout (6-12).

The Browns showed Gehringer a nine-hit attack, which included Mapes's fourth home run of the season. The former Yankee connected with the bases empty in the sixth inning when the score was tied at 1-all. The Browns went on to win, 4 to 2.

Ted Bangs Out Four Hits.

Besides gaining his fourteenth victory, Garver was the most productive hitter in the park. He collected a double and two singles off Virgil Trucks and a single off Hal White, who worked the ninth inning.

Garver's two-bagger was delivered in the fifth inning. He took third on a wild pitch and tried to score on Bob Young's grounder to Dick Kryhoski. It was a close play at the plate but Kryhoski's throw nipped the St. Louis pitcher.

Young stole second and posted the first run of the night when Jim Delsing grounded a single into right field. The chance that the Brownies would enlarge their lead immediately was killed when Trucks caught Delsing off first base.

In the Detroit half of the fifth, Pat Mullin lined Garver's first pitch into the right field stands to produce the deadlock that Mapes broke in the sixth with his drive into the same section.

The Browns widened their margin in the eighth. With one down, Matthew Batts singled and Mapes walked. After both runners advanced on a passed ball, an intentional pass was ordered for rookie Ben Taylor.

Bad Throw Helps Browns.

With the bases filled, Jack Maguire slapped a grounder to Neil Berry, who made a wide throw in his effort to force Taylor at second base. Batts scored on the play and Mapes followed him home on Fred Marsh's liner to Hoot Evers in center field.

In the ninth, the Tigers kept the spectators in their seats with the threat of a tie. Victor Wertz opened with a single and Mullin waited for a pass. A double-play, started by Fred Marsh's deft handling of a grounder by Evers, cut the Tigers' chances. They had to settle for one run. Wertz carried it home when Joe Ginsberg singled to center for the seventh and last hit off Garver.

The Browns lacked the services of Ken Wood, whose shoulder was bruised when he fell down the dugout steps Thursday.

As Wood's substitute, Maguire joined a cast that gave Garver flawless support. The best play was Delsing's leap against the center field screen to snare a 415-foot drive by Kryhoski in the sixth inning.

New York, Washington Play Final Contest in Printers' Baseball Meet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—New York moved undefeated yesterday into the finals of the thirty-seventh annual union printers international baseball tournament. The defending champions handed a Washington team its first defeat, 6-5, and went on to eliminate Detroit in a second game, 6-4.

New York and Washington will meet in the final today. A New York victory would end the tournament. A Washington win would require a second game, under the rule requiring two losses to eliminate a team.

Royal Blackstone Wins $15,600 Pacing Stake

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Royal Blackstone burst from the pack in a flying stretch drive last night and won the $15,600 Sportsman's Pace at Sportsman's Park by seven lengths.

The five-year-old star, owned by Bill Brown of Detroit, went the mile and a half in 3:14 2-5. Second was Gallant Song with Grattan Truax taking third. Mr. Dale was fourth.

Royal Blackstone paid the favorite's return of $3.20, $2.40 and $2.40. Royal Blackstone earned $7800. A crowd of 7127 set a park record in wagering $42,476 on the feature. The nine-race total of $303,200 also was a record.

13th Win For Staley On His Own Hit in 10th

By Bob Broeg

It was like old times. The Cardinals' clubhouse 'long about midnight still was crowded, carefree and noisy. "You'd think we just won a pennant instead of two ball games in succession," said veteran lefthander Al Brazle, smiling as he summed up the pleasant change in the dressing-room of the Redbirds.

The occasion was indeed a very special one because the Cardinals hadn't been able to put victories back to back in 22 tries since July 15. But then in a 10-inning game with Cincinnati last night at Sportsman's Park, Gerry Staley gave the Redbirds a second straight triumph, 4 to 3, by delivering a bases-loaded two-out single off cunning Ken Raffensberger.

"Seven out of 10 managers," observed Ray Blades, veteran coach of the Cardinals, "would have lifted Staley for a pinch-hitter." But Marty Marion, wearing a broad grin that had been in mothballs for nearly a month, said he never had considered removing a relief pitcher who was breezing along smoothly.

Big Night for Gerry.

"Just before Gerry went up, though, I almost used Tommy Glaviano to hit for Hal Rice," Marion explained, "but then I realized they (the Reds) would intentionally pass anyone to get at Staley."

For Staley, who took over after Harry Brecheen had begun to fade after six innings, the night was a full one. Scoring his sixth straight victory without defeat as a relief pitcher, the wobbling wheelhorse of the Cardinals' staff finally recorded his thirteenth triumph following five false starts since July 12.

As a result of Red Schoendienst's fourth homer of the season and first here, a two-run belt into the bleachers in the fifth, the Redbirds owned a 3-3 tie against hard-luck Raffensberger by the time Staley took over at the top of the seventh. Raffy, to that point, had allowed only five hits, just one of which—Schoendienst's homer—had left the infield.

Staley immediately jumped into trouble with both feet, walking the first two batters to face him and then, after a sacrifice put both runners in scoring position, he went "3-1" on big Joe Adcock before Marion ordered a fourth ball that filled the bases. Here, husky Ted Kluszewski rapped into the Reds' second double play of the game. And that's the way things went against Staley's sinker the rest of the way, for Cincinnati bounced into three more twin-killings.

Reds Get 'em on Base.

The Cardinals, outhit 10-8 and with four fewer base-runners than the Reds, seldom threatened until the tenth, though Johnny Wyrostek twice went back to the pavilion wall for good catches of hard drives hit by home-town Bob Sheffing against his old mates, each time with a runner on base.

Then, with two out in the first overtime inning, Raffensberger gave up his fourth walk, passing Nippy Jones. Wally Westlake followed with a double to right, Jones stopping at third. It was then that Sewell ordered southpaw Raffensberger to pass left-handed-hitting Hal Rice for Staley.

A .190 hitter, Staley blasted Raffy's first pitch, a curve, into right-center for a single that gave the Cardinals a second straight victory at long last, a twentieth triumph by one run and seven out of 11 decided this season in extra innings.

And as Brazle said, you would have thought the happy Redbirds just had won a pennant.

Redbird Notes.

Max (5-8) Lanier of the Cardinals and Willie (9-11) Ramsdell of the Reds probably will be the starting pitchers in the second game of the series tonight at 8:30.

Marty announced that Joe Presko, on the shelf a month or more because of a pulled tendon in his right shoulder, had been given permission to visit his family at North Kansas City, Mo.

Bill Johnson, hit on the left hand by a pitched ball in the sixth inning, was forced to leave the game, and Peanuts Lowrey finished at third base for the Cardinals.

Solly Hemus singled the first time up, extending his string of consecutive hits to seven, but the little guy's lack of speed cost him an eighth straight when he was thrown out from deep short on a close play in the third.

Stan Musial, held to two scratch hits, recorded his eleventh assist in 71 games as an outfielder this season by throwing out Bobby Usher trying for a double in the second, and Westlake deprived Kluszewski of an extra-base hit in the fourth with a diving catch in left-center.

Victory in Doubles Would Clinch Zone Title for U.S. In Davis Cup Competition

MONTREAL, Aug. 11 (AP)—With a 2-0 lead the United States figures to wind up the Davis Cup competition in the North American zone today with a victory over Canada in the doubles.

Dick Savitt and Tony Trabert beat the best the Canadians had to offer in the opening singles matches yesterday and left the matter of clinching the zone title to Trabert and his new doubles partner, Budge Patty of Los Angeles.

They'll meet Canadian champion Brendan Macken and Henri Rochon. Regardless of the outcome the remaining two singles matches will be played tomorrow.

The winner, and there isn't anybody who'll bet against Uncle Sam's boys, will go into the inter-zone final against Sweden, European zone champion.

The inter-zone tie will be played in Melbourne next December with the Aussies scheduled to defend the coveted trophy in Sydney Dec. 26-28.

Savitt, Wimbledon champion from Orange, N. J., overwhelmed Macken yesterday 6-3, 6-1, 6-1 after Trabert, 20-year-old Cincinnati ace, pounded Lorne Main into submission, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Trabert was far from his best and he won almost entirely on errors by 21-year-old Main. The intercollegiate champion protected a muscle strain in his upper left leg with a bandage but he claimed the injury didn't bother him one bit.

The crowd of 3000 fans looked for Macken, who played his college tennis at William and Mary in Virginia, to make a better showing against Savitt. But they were disappointed.

The former Cornell University star broke through Macken's service in the first game of the match and then poured it on. He lost his jerky but powerful service only once.

Boxing and Wrestling Will Be Investigated As Possible Monopolies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (UP)—Senator Warren G. Magnuson, (Dem.), Washington, has thrown wrestling and boxing into the congressional ring for investigation as possible monopolies.

Magnuson introduced a resolution yesterday calling for an investigation of boxing and wrestling to "determine the extent of monopolies now existing in these two sports." The inquiry he said, also should find out "if there are any connections between promoters and any persons connected with rackets or any illegal enterprises of any sort."

Magnuson said he had reports of "alleged monopolistic practices" in both sports. He cited the case of Seattle light heavyweight Harry (Kid) Matthews, who, he said, failed to get a shot at the title because he is not under contract to the International Boxing Club.

Musial Should Know Soon If He Got a Raise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (UP)—Major league club owners and players will be summoned to New York, Aug. 21 and 22, by a three-man panel of sports experts for hearings on whether baseball players' salaries should be controlled by the Wage Stabilization Board.

The panel, headed by H. C. (Curly) Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, was set up by the W.S.B. to help decide whether professional athletes come under its jurisdiction. The hearings are aimed at establishing a permanent wage policy for baseball players.

The wage board has ruled temporarily that a player cannot receive a 1951 raise which results in a salary higher than that paid any player on his team last year. Because of that ruling, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals lost a 1951 pay raise. He was the only player affected.

Hearings into the salaries paid professional football, basketball and other sports will be held later, the board announced.

Demaret's 136 Paces Field in Tam Golf Meet

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Jimmy Demaret, fashion plate of the fairways with just $4200 earned this year, today had drawn a half-way bead on golf's biggest loot, the $12,500 top prize in the $56,000 "world" championship tourney.

The 41-year-old Demaret, from Ojai, Calif., was a one-stroke leader at eight-under par 136 as the "world" shifted into its third 18-hole round at Tam O'Shanter course. Jimmy had two tough customers snapping at his heels, U. S. open champion Ben Hogan and big, bustling Clayton Heafner, both tied at 137.

And just two strokes behind Demaret, knotted at 138, whooped six clever clouters—Johnny Palmer, Bob Hamilton, Lawson Little, Herman Barron, Ed Furgol and Al Brosch.

Three strokes behind Demaret was the lone 139 shooter, Glenn Teal of Knoxville, Tenn. The 140 bracket listed five pros and the pacesetter of the 10 "world" amateurs, Toledo's Frank Stranahan.

The other pursuers at 140 were Earl Stewart Jr., Sammy Snead, Shelley Mayfield, Pete Cooper and Ted Kroll.

In the concurrent "world" women's tournament, paying $2100 to the winner, 22-year-old Betsy Rawls, Austin, Tex., pro, was winging in front by two strokes with a five-under-par 147. Second with 149 was Patty Berg, the old reliable from Minneapolis, while defending champion Babe Zaharias in third in the 20-gal field with 151.

The 10-player foreign contingent in the men's open was headed by Norman Von Nida, Sydney, Australia, whose par-patching 72 yesterday bracketed him at 141 with American pros Jack Shields and Ray Gafford.

The one foreign amateur in the field, little Phil Scrutton of London, England, did as well as heralded Bobby Locke, much-traveled pro from Johannesburg, South Africa, landing with Locke in the five-player 143 listing.

Shilkett's 199 Paces Missouri Shooters

DALLAS, Aug. 11—C. W. Shilkett of Joplin led Missouri gunners here yesterday in the second round of the 250 target national all-bore skeet championship race when he shattered 199 out of 200.

Other leaders were: Carole Simmons, Kansas City, 176; Jerry Steppelman, Jefferson City, 173; E. P. Simmons Sr., Kansas City, 191; Everett Herrick, Springfield, 194; John E. Warden, St. Louis, 195; Thomas J. Warden, St. Louis, 195; C. B. Morris, St. Louis, 192.

Four shooters remained with perfect scores. They were S. Sgt. Glenn W. Van Buren of Carswell Air Force Base, Robert A. Smith of Silver Springs, Md., a 16-year-old youth; Herman Ehler of Dallas and Lewis Gordon of Texarkana, Ark.

Parks Champion Picks Coast Aces To Grab Honors

By Harold Flachsbart

Clyde Hippenstiel, the California highway engineer who will defend his singles title in the National Public Parks tennis tournament opening here tomorrow, is far from the cocky type of player, but he believes the Coast players again will win in this "poor man's tournament."

One of few competitors on hand early for the twenty-fifth Parks tourney, Hippenstiel won't predict a repeat victory for himself, but maintains that his mixed doubles partner, Mrs. Mary Arnold Prentiss, won't lose more than 10 games in gaining the women's singles crown.

Hippenstiel heads the delegation from San Bernardino, Calif., which also is the home city of Mrs. Prentiss, who lives a little out of that valley town "up in the mountains." Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss are due here tonight.

Clyde is glad to be back in St. Louis, and that's because he married a St. Louis girl, Patricia Holston, whom he met while serving as an Air Force pilot at Malden and Sedalia, Mo., in World War II. Mrs. Hippenstiel and a 21-month-old son are visiting her mother, Mrs. Ellen Holston, while Clyde goes about the task of trying to repeat his national victory gained in Detroit last summer.

Why do California players have an advantage in the tennis world? Is it because they play the year around?

"That has a lot to do with it," said the 28-year-old Parks champion. "But I believe the California players are more aggressive. They have to be because they play on hard court surfaces. And on clay (the kind of surface to be used in St. Louis) it counts just as much. I'll bet you won't see our players WAITING back for somebody to LOSE a point very often. We'll go OUT AFTER THE POINT!"

Another factor—also emphasized by Professional Jack Kramer on one of his winter stops here two years ago—is the fact that young players on the Coast are herded into private clubs and given first-class instruction.

Hippenstiel himself is strictly a parks player who has never traveled the Eastern grass courts circuit but who has defeated at least four of the top 20 players in the nation within the past year. At San Bernardino, he plays at the Perris Hill Club, which is equivalent to Jefferson Memorial Courts, site of the Nationals tomorrow through Aug. 19.

This is the fourth "National" for the six-foot-one Coast star who played in his first tourney when 12 years old. One of his best wins was over Frank Sedgman, Australian Davis Cupper, in the Southwest tourney at El Paso, Tex., two years ago.

He won a U. S. Parks mixed doubles title with Mrs. Prentiss in 1948 and last year won the men's singles and mixed doubles at Detroit but lost with his brother, Glenn, in the men's doubles title round.

No. 17 for Grissom.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 11 (UP)—Marvin Grissom gained his seventeenth pitching victory of the season last night, as Seattle downed San Diego, 5 to 1. Grissom, ace of Rogers Hornsby's hill staff, gave up five hits.

Zachritz 3 Up After 18 in Open Final

Amateur 2 Strokes Under Par

By Robert Morrison

NORWOOD HILLS COUNTRY CLUB, Aug. 11—Meadow Brook's title-defending Howard Zachritz held a substantial three-up lead over Lakeside professional Gene Webb at half-way in their 36-hole Eastern Missouri P.G.A. match play open final here today.

The amateur star, who was the underdog in the match, shot a two-under-par 69 to get his 18-hole advantage, and once during the morning round he had a five-up lead.

Scoring 73, Webb hit bottom at the fifteenth hole where Zachritz holed out a 15-foot putt for a birdie four, to go five up. But the pro began to show in Webb then and he won the next two holes to start a comeback.

Zachritz, who had tired badly in his semi-final victory yesterday, was using a lighter weight set of woods to save himself effort in the long title match. He made the first nine in 34, one under par.

Webb Gets a 36.

Webb, pre-tournament favorite and medalist, was out in 36 in the match and a few early mistakes put him on the defensive.

The first hole, however, was lost by Zachritz when his approach was on the back adge of the green and he chipped past and missed his putt for par. Zachritz saved a half at No. 2 with a chip, however, and then squared the match at No. 3 there, Webb three-putted after boldly stroking his first putt five feet past.

Webb again lost iat No. 4, the downhill par 4, where his approach bounced off to the left of a green-side trap.

Now in the lead, Zachritz became sharper and it was Webb who had to make sizable putts for pars to half No. 5 and No. 6.

Then Meadow Brook amateur then moved into a two-up lead at No. 7 where he stroked an eight-foot downhill putt for a birdie while Webb barely managed his par 4. They halved No. 8 in par and No. 9 in birdie 4s. At the ninth, Zachritz was on in two with a fine wood second on the 511-yard hole, and Webb had to chip to four feet and make the putt for his birdie.

Conceded Birdie on 10th.

The tenth hole went to Zachritz on a conceded birdie after Webb missed the green, chipped up, and missed a putt. Zachritz had been 10 feet away for a birdie. They halved the eleventh, then Webb won a hole with a birdie for the first time, at No. 12. He put an iron just 18 inches from the pin and Zachritz missed a four-footer.

On the thirteenth, however, Webb was in the bushes with his drive and bogied to lose. Zachritz went four up at the fourteenth where Webb three-putted after being disconcerted by Zachritz's caddie moving the pin as he was about to stroke the first putt.

Then at No. 15 Zachritz birdied to go five up. But Webb put an iron shot to the elevated No. 16 green just six feet from the cup and holed the downhill putt for a birdie to win. Webb recovered another hole at No. 17 where Zachritz was short to the green and short with chip and putt for a bogey 4.

The eighteenth halmost went to Webb, but Zachritz maintained his three-up margin by holing out a 16-foot putt for a half in par 4 after having missed the green on the left with his approach.

HIT OR MISS—By Sixta

"I guess you'll have to let me win this hole by default—you'll never be able to shoot it out of there!"

Binkey Broeder Is Named Outstanding Back as East Defeats West Eleven, 15-6

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 11 (AP)—The United States naval academy has something to look forward to in Fred Cason, a back who helped the East beat the West, 15 to 6, in the third annual All-America High School game here last night.

Cason scored the final East touchdown by bulling his way through a heavier West squad in the fourth quarter.

They came from every section of the nation for the contest, but when all the states had had their say, a chunky young man from Missouri stood out as the best looking football player on the field.

He was George (Binkey) Broeder, who gave quite ample proof to 8290 fans why he was besieged by a reported 33 colleges to play football after a sensational four-sport career of stardom at St. Louis' Maplewood High.

Broeder, though on the losing side, was picked by writers as the best back of the game. He scored the West's only touchdown, making a beautiful catch of a pass from Larry Graham, Houston, Tex., in a 40-yard second quarter play.

But his play on defense was even more brilliant. He stopped a serious East threat in the second quarter, slapping down a short pass over the goal on fourth down. The tackling of the 180-pound whirlwind was deadly.

After the West had jumped to a 6 to 2 half-time lead, the easterners came back to take charge in a driving rain when Buddy Leake, a Memphis back, intercepted a pass and raced 15 yards to score.

The East scored a safety in the second quarter when Don Bussey of Claremore, Okla., had his punt blocked in the end zone by Earl Dixon of Alexandria, Va., and Charles Byrd of Clinton, Miss.

Will Walls, head coach of Corpus Christi (Texas) University and skipper of the West, played all his cards with Graham and Broeder. He used them on both offense and defense for much of the game.

It was the third straight triumph for the East, coached by Harold (Red) Drew of Alabama.

The game was sponsored by the Wigwam Wisemen of America, a benevolent organization for the advancement and help of youthful athletes.

Jimmy Van Buren of Atlanta, Ga., was voted the best lineman.

Humes Goes Long and Short At Fairmount

By Herman Wecke

Wally Humes, the St. Louis high school graduate, had the honor of riding the long shot of the night as well as the "short priced" favorite in last night's racing before 7259 fans at Fairmount Park. The crowd bet $232,-137, sending the total for the meeting over the one million dollar mark.

Humes, who at present is tied for second place in the jockey race with Roberto Torrens with five firsts to his credit, came home in front with Remoriel in the second with the pay-off $84.40 for $2. Then he was up on Flaming Bush in the seventh and feature. The Offerman five-year-old, gaining his second victory of the meeting, made a show of his field to beat Fighting Fool by eight lengths and pay off at $3.20 for $2.

The jockey lead with six firsts was taken over by Leon Grandsart, who hit the winner's circle with Time Bound' and Collin's Girl.

One of Fairmount's riders, Bob Bennett, is in the hospital with a broken collar bone, suffered when he fell with Dame Dolly going into the stretch in the fifth race. He probably will be out for the remainder of the meeting.

Vee-L Capt., ridden by Pat Mullins, put on one of the greatest finishes of the meeting to win the eighth. Off to a slow start, and still fifth as the horses hit the stretch, Vee-L Capt. got up in time to beat Brierless Rose by half a length.

A mile and one-sixteenth handicap with eight starters will feature tonight. In the entry list is The Blue Hen, which on July 4 equaled the track record of 1:44 2-5 for the distance. Bart's Energy, Reade Castle and Hopeful Sam appear best of the others.

Memphis Team Wins From Haug Club 12-4

The Inmans of Memphis gained a 12 to 4 victory over the Bert Haugs in an intercity juvenile baseball game at Fairgrounds Park, yesterday. During the game, the Inmans used 20 players. They made 11 hits to six for the St. Louisans.

The Memphis team is scheduled to play the Carondelet Sunday Morning Club and the Ned Garver Juvenile League All-Stars in a double-header at Heine Meine Park this afternoon. Play begins at 1 o'clock.

19 Plebes Will Fill Holes in Ranks of Army

WEST POINT, N.Y., Aug. 11 (UP)—Dejected players of Army's "outgoing" football team solemnly scanned the patch-work roster of West Point's 1951 squad today and dourly predicted "black days ahead" for the Black Knights of the Hudson.

Curiously figuring the 31-man roster, hastily put together by Coach Earl (Red) Blaik, seven varsity men of the 1950 eleven who now face dismissal shook their heads in chagrin and offered the opinion that Army's grid team will have to rely chiefly "on passes and prayers" during the forthcoming season.

"I notice there's only one quarterback on the roster (Dick Boyle of Providence, R.I.)," observed a veteran tackle. "Boyle isn't a bad player but I don't know if he's ready to play first string yet. They're sure going to miss Bobby Blaik, I'll guarantee you that."

All 90 cadets accused of cribbing on examinations at the U.S. Military Academy are expected to be expelled from the institution early next week.

Hearings to End Monday.

A four-man final review board set up to "process" the dismissal proceedings expected to complete its hearings on Monday with an announcement of the expulsions.

The dismissed cadets will be given two weeks to leave the Academy.

Col. John Smith of Harrisburg, Pa., a military law expert who came here as an attorney for one of the accused cadets, said there was no hope that any of the 90 will be allowed to remain.

Smith said he appealed to Col. Edward J. Burke, judge advocate of West Point, for honorable discharges for the 90 "so their lives will not be ruined from this one mistake."

Normally, the Army football roster lists 45 men. But because of the impending mass dismissal which will sweep with it all but two first string players, the squad will be considerably shortmanned, possibly for the entire 1951 season.

The majority of first stringers who are about to leave centered their praise on Kendall Haff, a 152-pound pint-sized Brooklyn boy, who is slated to take over the offensive fullback post despite the fact he played only plebe ball last year.

"That little Haff will run 'em dizzy, if nothing else," said one outward-bound backfield man. "He's a good broken field runner, the kind of guy who gets off to jack-rabbit starts."

"Can't Do It Alone."

"That's right," agreed another veteran of the 1950 squad, "Haff will help a lot, but he can't do the job alone."

One of Army's top stars of last year singled out halfback Johnny Wing of Dayton, Ky., for special praise.

"Keep an eye on him," he advised. "He's moving up from the plebes, also, and we heard a lot of good things about him."

The veteran players passed over Ed Weaver and Johnny Krobock, the only two returnees from last year's varsity squad who are included in the 1951 roster.

"The men coming up from the plebes will have to carry the ball," said one player, "and they'll have their hands full just holding on to the football."

In normal times, Army's coaching staff has been accustomed to only six or eight men moving up from the plebes to the varsity, but on the present roster, 19 men are being promoted from the plebe ranks.

"Coach Blaik will get the best out of them," said the tackle, "but even he's no magician."

Perron, Former Jockey, Is Sought by Poilce

HAMILTON, Ontario, Aug. 11 (AP)—Police in Canada and the United States are searching for Johnny Perron, a former jockey, suspected of being the chief contact man in Ontario's racing scandal.

The Ontario Racing Commission, which is conducting an investigation of fixed races on tracks in the province, announced yesterday that evidence against Perron is overwhelming.

Commission Chairman Tupper Bigelow said:

"We have reached the point in our investigations where the evidence against Perron is so overwhelming that we have recommended to police that he be arrested wherever and whenever they find him on this charge. We are convinced that Perron was the go-between—between the higher-ups and the jockeys. He was the contact man used by these men to arrange betting coups."

AFL SAYS FOREIGN AID BENEFITS FAIL TO HELP WORKERS

Report Based on Findings of Milan Conference Delegates — Anti-Red Program Adopted.

By SPENCER R. McCULLOCH
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11—Economic benefits of the Marshall plan and the Economic Co-operation Administration are not reaching European workers in sufficient quantities, especially in France, Italy and Germany, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor said yesterday in a foreign policy report.

The report, which concluded the quarterly session of the council, was based on the findings of 10 delegates from the AFL to the recent conference at Milan, Italy, of the anti-Communist International Confederation of Free Trade Unions. The Congress of Industrial Organizations was equally represented at the conference, which represented more than 52,000,000 workers from 80 unions in 60 countries.

Although not abandoning AFL support of the Marshall plan, the AFL council warned that efforts of the Marshall plan to improve living standards must be re-emphasized. Defense of the democratic way of life may not be obtained by armaments alone, it said.

"Low Pay, High Prices."

"Low wages and high prices resulting in too low standards of living," the council reported, "still are too prevalent, especially in the key countries of France and Italy.

"The executive council, therefore, supports the aims of the recently announced program of the ECA to assist European employers and workers to increase productivity. The program must be one that will guarantee that the rewards of increases in productivity be equitably shared by workers and consumers. The full participation of the trade unions at all stages is essential to meet this objective.

"The growing strength of Atlantic Pact nations, the council found, is hindered by continuing Communist strength in the labor movements of France and Italy although Communist influence has not recovered its 1946-47 peak."

The council then adopted a program which it regarded as essential to overcome Communist influence in western Europe at a time when "the world situation remains extremely critical."

It proposed:

An increased rate of building an army and armament in western Europe.

Greater unification of the European economy, both civil and military, which would contribute to both the building of defenses and an increase in living standards for workers.

"Increased measures must be taken immediately to prevent inflation," the council stated, "and lower the cost of living so as to increase the workers' purchasing power or at the very least prevent its further deterioration. Such a program must be reinforced by an equitable tax system enforced especially among those who are most able to pay and are not today paying—the employers of France, Italy and Germany."

Red Unions Deserted.

The democratic labor forces, the council pointed out, must through united action offer a program attractive to many who have deserted Communist - controlled unions in France and Italy.

The AFL council also called on the governments of France and Italy to take immediate measures to prevent what it termed "a reign of terror" existing in many industrial centers and acting as a brake on expansion of non-Communist unions. As long as trade unionists who have broken with the Communists, the council stated, feel that employers and governmental bodies are unwilling to break the Communist terroristic strategy, they are unwilling to expose themselves by joining the anti-Communist unions.

The council asserted that "reliance on pacts with Franco, Peron and similar dictatorships must be rejected as weakening the unity of the democratic world and offering to Stalin an excellent opportunity to counter and undermine the western world's moral and physical rearmament program."

Much of the council's final session was occupied in the preparation of its report to the annual convention of the AFL in San Francisco in September.

ILLINOISAN 80, AND WOMAN HE MET ON TRIP ARE MARRIED

Martin Geiger, 80-year-old department store owner of New Athens, Ill., and Miss Olivia Metz, 53, of St. Louis, were married in the rectory of St. Agatha's Catholic Church in New Athens today. The romance began on a vacation trip in New York.

Geiger and Miss Metz met when they were seated side by side at a night club in New York.

The College Scandals

Universities Reaping What They Sowed

By Inez Robb

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (INS).

AMERICAN universities are beginning to reap what they have deliberately sowed on the athletic field for years. And their screams of anguish and indignation at the discovery that basketball players, following the example of their alma maters, sell to the highest bidder and that football players cheat on exams sound hollow and phony.

INEZ ROBB

Young men of college age, whether at Bradley U., N.Y.U. or West Point, are old enough to know right from wrong. Period. To sell out to gamblers or cheat in the classroom clinches is inexcusable. But the youths involved in these offenses have had neither an inspiring example spread before them in the behavior of their respective schools nor by adults in general.

★ ★ ★

WE LIVE IN the age of the easy buck—the really cheap dollar—and of easy tolerance for moral situations in all phases of public and private life that would turn the stomach of a goat.

The inexcusable financial greed of American universities, and West Point is no exception, and their cheap ambition to boast winning teams rather than academic accomplishments, has surely not been lost to generations of students in the past 25 years.

Football players are bought and sold in the open market by the schools themselves or by loyal alumni whose eternal sophomoric status is never open to question. Athletic teams must bring home the bacon to build bigger stadiums to the greater glory of Old Siwash, so that subsequent teams can be pressured into bringing home the bacon to support such stadiums.

★ ★ ★

JUST A YEAR AGO Frank Leahy, the great coach of Notre Dame, spent 30 minutes explaining the two-platoon system to me, and at the end of the lecture, tossed in the added information that universities were already discussing the possibility of the three-platoon system.

"The third platoon is to study," Mr. Leahy explained.

It seemed awfully funny at the moment. It doesn't seem very hilarious now in view of the basketball scandals and the fiasco at West Point.

★ ★ ★

IT WAS AT the University of Wisconsin this winter that the board of regents boosted the winning football coach's salary above that of the prexy, who heads one of the largest schools in the nation. Only a few students seemed indignant at this standard of academic values. And even they were not surprised.

In Tulsa this spring, I heard a group of substantial citizens laugh because the president of Oklahoma University had been given a gratuitous raise because the regents had boosted the salary of the football coach and felt impelled to do as handsomely by the prexy. Naturally, the alumni had not duplicated for the president the new automobile they press annually upon the coach. No use carrying equality too far!

★ ★ ★

HOW CAN THINKING ADULTS expect students in their late teens and early twenties to have a more nicely developed sense of values, not to mention ethics, than the schools they attend and the regents who guide these schools?

A number of vocal adults, particularly Congressmen, now screaming with moral indignation over the West Point situation, seem to feel that it can be solved by publicly whipping the miscreants down the streets. I wish they were equally indignant at the causes which gave rise to the situation.

There probably wouldn't be one one-hundredth of the juvenile delinquency in universities today if there weren't so much adult delinquency to copy on all sides.

Try and Stop Me

RUPERT HUGHES claims he knows the origin of kissing. "A prehistoric man," avers Hughes, "discovered one day that salt helped him survive the fierce summer heat. He also discovered he could get the salt by licking his companion's cheek. The next thing he observed was that the process became ever so much more interesting when the companion belonged to the opposite sex. First thing you know the whole tribe had forgotten all about salt."

SEAN O'CASEY, the Irish dramatist, was introduced one evening to Novelist Paul Gallico, whose ancestors hail from Italy. O'Casey was uncommonly cordial all evening. When he arose to depart the reason became clear. He slapped Paul on the back and boomed, "Fine to have met you, Mr. Gallagher,"

WHEN PAULETTE GODDARD vacationed in Mexico City last winter, she was squired about town by one of its richest and most eligible bachelors. On the eve of her departure for Hollywood, he announced, "I would like to give you an example of our native products as a memento of your visit." Miss Goddard's prompt suggestion was, "How about a Mexican Cadillac convertible?"

AILING BUT INDOMITABLE

Ill since 1941 and confined to an iron lung for the last four years, Jane Norton of Cleveland here demonstrates her technique as a painter, dabbing at the canvas with brush held between her teeth. Miss Norton, 28 years old, suffers from a painful spinal ailment and is forced to spend all but a few minutes of each day in the iron lung.

WORK FOR ARMY ENGINEERS

Men of an Army engineering outfit come under close attention as they work (in background) to restore a pontoon bridge washed out earlier by flooding waters of the Imjin river somewhere on the western front in Korea. SPEEDER FREED FROM JAIL

Mrs. Mary Kopko of Shamokin, Pa., shaking hands with Russell G. Mock, a Youngstown (O.) lawyer who helped her get out of jail in Youngstown yesterday after she had been arrested for speeding. Sentenced to a five-day term for driving at 70 miles an hour in the city, Mrs. Kopko admitted driving fast—but not that fast—and spent 24 hours in jail before being freed. Presence of her three children—William (left), David and Timothy—aided in the release. They were turned over to county officials while the mother was in jail.

ST. LOUIS MORTAR CREW AT WORK

While other men of the 138th Infantry Regiment watch from a safe distance, two St. Louisans on summer maneuvers with the 138th at Camp Ripley, Minn., demonstrate their technique with a mortar. Sgt. Charles Gibbar, 3444 Park avenue is loading the weapon; Cpl. William Blackard, 5231 Cates avenue is the gunner.

CAT RESCUED FROM MAIL BOX

Ten-year-old Joyce Polk of Washington is close to tears (left) as she tells of the plight of her cat, Midnight, which was dropped into a mail box by a mischievous playmate. Police were summoned but were unable to rescue the animal. All is well with the world, however, as Joyce snuggles her pet (above) after mail collector Carlton Boujai opened the box.

AIRMEN OFF FOR SPECIAL TRAINING

Men of the 157th Aircraft Control and Warning Group lined up with some of their baggage before their departure from Jefferson Barracks today for special training at Camp Williams, Wis. The group, an Air National Guard unit, will be called into active service Nov. 1. Giving the men a last check are (left center, from left): Sgt. Henry Rogers, Sgt. C. E. Pratt and Lt. G. Eckrich.

HUMAN RIGHTS DAY PLANNING STARTED

United Nations Official Comes Here to Discuss Preparations for Event.

Preliminary planning for the United Nations Human Rights day observance which will be held here Dec. 10 at Kiel Auditorium was begun yesterday by members of a local committee appointed by Mayor Joseph M. Darst.

The committee met with Ben F. Carruthers, social affairs officer of the Human Rights division of United Nations, who came here from New York to outline general principles for the observance and to review for the committee experiences in organizing two other observances in Boston and New York.

Subcommittees to handle the general program and to make arrangements for the nation-wide radio and television broadcast of the observance were appointed and it was decided that the general program would be built around a presentation by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

George W. Cloyd, chairman of the St. Louis Council on Human Relations, was appointed chairman of the general arrangements committee.

33 IN THIS REGION TO GET GRANTS FOR WHEELCHAIR HOMES

Thirty-three seriously disabled World War II veterans of St. Louis and eastern Missouri have qualified for Federal Government grants for "wheelchair" homes, E. J. Wieland, manager of the St. Louis regional office of the Veterans Administration, said today.

Each of the 33 will receive a minimum of $10,000 with which to construct or remodel a home with such special features as ramps instead of stairways, doorways wide enough to accommodate a wheelchair, special bathroom fixtures and an exercise room. The Veterans Administration will supply model plans, specifications and blueprints.

The grant may be used to buy a lot and build a home, buy a home and remodal it, remodel the man's present home or pay off mortgage indebtedness. Veterans of the Korean war are eligible for grants but none has applied, since all wheelchair cases among them still are hospitalized.

$300 FIRE AT FUR SHOP

Fire caused damage estimated at $300 early today at the Davison Fur Co., on the third floor at 709 Pine street.

The fire set off a sprinkler system. Cause of the fire is unknown. Most of the damage was to the floor of the shop.

ACTUAL MILK VOLUME URGED AS PRICE BASIS

Producers' Representative Opposes 'On Paper' Figures in Time of Shortage.

The actual volume of milk reaching the St. Louis area, rather than the potential, "on paper" volume, should be used to establish the price in periods when the supply is short, Judd Mason of Chicago, representative of Sanitary Milk Producers, a co-operative group, testified yesterday.

Mason, director of dairy marketing for the Illinois Agricultural Association, urged that to achieve this, milk producers and handlers should be redefined and the new definitions should be incorporated in a federal order which governs the marketing of milk here.

He testified at a hearing on proposed amendments to the federal order being held at Hotel Chase. The co-operative producers' group favors the amendments.

Under the federal order as it now reads, he said, milk producers' are qualified by the Government to produce milk if they meet certain health standards. Total volume of milk which can be produced by all such qualified producers is used to determine the price of milk during periods of short supply.

But, Mason continued, some producers do not send their milk to the St. Louis area for sale, but to other areas. This occasionally results in unfairly lowered milk prices, since the price is computed on the basis of the volume of milk which would come in if all producers sent their milk here, rather than on the amount of milk which actually reaches the St. Louis market. There is, therefore, less milk reaching local markets than it would seem "on paper," he maintained.

Mason recommended qualifying milk producers on a "specific performance" basis, which would qualify them only if they were actually shipping milk to local markets.

R. W. Bartlett, professor of agricultural economy at the University of Illinois, reviewed the principle of automatic adjustment of supply and demand in milk production, saying that, whatever price of milk is adopted, the supply-demand principle should be incorporated. If this is done, he said, market conditions will determine the price "automatically."

The hearings recessed yesterday until Monday morning. Producers will present arguments for an increase in the price of milk.

CHARGE OF LETTING SON DRIVE WITHOUT LICENSE DISMISSED

A charge against Doss Dee Adams, 300 Thatcher avenue, of allowing his 16-year-old son to drive an automobile without a city driver's license was dismissed yesterday by Police Judge John Lee Waechter.

The son, Ronald, was the driver of an automobile that struck and killed Mrs. Vera L. Walker in the 9000 block of Riverview drive July 28. A coroner's verdict of accident was returned in the death of Mrs. Walker. Judge Waechter said there did not appear to be any basis for prosecuting the boy's father.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM 18 and considered very pretty but I don't think it has made me conceited. Fellows are always trying to date me but I don't think it is because they like me particularly, but because they think I am pretty. One of the fellows has asked me to marry him, but I don't think he is in love with me. I think he just likes my looks. He isn't handsome, he even wears glasses, but I am very fond of him. He is a nice guy. Do you think I should marry him or shall I wait until someone comes along that I feel loves me for myself, not just for what I look like?

NANCY.

Gracious me! Get away from that mirror and all that brooding and get out into the open and start acting human! If you were that beautiful, my dear, there would be a stampede of talent scouts around your door. Forget your looks, other than to take normal care of them. If the boys did not think you were good company they would not want to date you. I'll admit that appearance does make a lot of difference sometimes on first sight, but after that it is the person behind that face that counts, not the mere facade. A man who would be silly enough to marry a girl for her looks alone would need to have his head examined, and I doubt that your boy friend is as dumb as you make him sound. But why marry him no matter for what reason he cares for you, when you, still in your teens, have years ahead of you before you need worry about being married, and above all when you don't seem to even love the guy?

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO "Mar": For pity's sake what kind of young rowdy have you picked up to be your boy friend? Stop associating with him and try to meet other boys who have had the proper sort of home training and the proper respect for others.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO "Unsatisfied": You are helping your country when you care for your little son and bring him up the best you know how to be the best possible citizen. That will have to suffice you for the next few years.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO "H.S": No, you should not exchange gifts of clothing. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll mail you my Gift Suggestions list.

A Good Example?

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

THE F. family is another one that can't agree about the use of the automobile. "Our son John has turned 16, at which age he can get a driver's license in our state," Mr. F. informs me. "He thinks he should be allowed to drive our new car. Some of our friends say that is murder, Dr. Popenoe. They claim teen-agers should be kept out of autos. What do you think? John is a pretty responsible boy, but he is certainly young. I don't like to see him take the car; but don't want to be unfair, either."

I think it depends on John. He is entitled to a chance. If he does as well as you do, he should be allowed reasonable use of the car, Mr. F.

★ ★ ★

THE Minnesota Automobile Dealers Association circulated a father-son agreement which has been widely copied. Have you seen it? You might try it on John:

"I do hereby agree with my father, man to man, as follows: that if he will from time to time permit me to drive the automobile that is titled in his name, as in his judgment and discretion he may deem proper, I do promise:

"1. That, knowing insofar as the law is concerned, my acts in using the car are the acts of my father, I will try to drive it as carefully and cautiously as he does;

"2. That I will not drive it after I have been drinking any kind of intoxicating liquor, and will not permit it to be driven by anyone else who has been drinking any form of intoxicating liquor while the car is in my charge;

★ ★ ★

"3. THAT I fully realize that the car is not a plaything, but a machine with power to kill and injure, and I will not try to show off with it;

"4. That I will not drive it at any time in excess of the speed limit specified on any city street or over 50 miles an hour on open highways;

"5. That I will slow down and look both ways at intersections even though I may have the right of way;

"6. That I will not race with other cars regardless of how much of a temptation it might be to do so;

"7. That I will not attempt to drive if I feel sleepy;

"8. That I will obey all signs, yellow lines, signal lights and other traffic regulations."

★ ★ ★

ANY BOY OR GIRL should realize that violation of such common-sense requirements may jeopardize the parent, the car and the insurance. But violation of these rules on your part wouldn't be helpful either, Mr. F. Are you setting John a good example? If he's the right kind of boy he may not need such rules. If he's the wrong kind of boy, no rules will save him. It depends very largely on what kind of an example you have set during the past 16 years as a driver—and as a father.

Are you willing to stand or fall on your record, Mr. F?

Beauty After Forty

By EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

"I HAVE TRIED to keep a modern point of view but I am beginning to wonder! My daughter expects her first baby this fall. She takes the attitude that I am old-fashioned when it comes to offering advice for her personal comfort and for the layette for the expected baby. Should I leave home?—Bewildered Grandma."

Judging from your complete letter, you have a keen sense of humor and I think that will save the situation. Hang on to your viewpoint and don't suggest health measures to daughter. Her physician will take care of that. It may be that your ideas of the proper things to go into a layette are a bit outmoded. Baby has gone modern along with everything else!

★ ★ ★

INSTEAD of the lacy things, babies now wear streamlined outfits—and a good thing too! Women relatives of the expected arrival used to slave at embroidering bibs and bonnets, working fine buttonholes and sewing on tiny pearl buttons (which baby never appreciated) but today modern mothers and modern grandmothers pop Junior into the new style kimonos and plastic panties with gripper fasteners instead of those old-fashioned buttons and endless ties.

You and your daughter can have more leisure and more fun with baby as small snap fasteners are great time savers and baby loves his dressing time because it takes so little effort on the part of everybody.

After the baby arrives now, dear modern Grandma, don't take over, even though you know best! Just be there when you are needed. If daughter's home seems crowded, think seriously of a place of your own. Even if it's just a room a few blocks away you'll be happier on your own. Visiting your married children is far wiser than living with them. Think this over!

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

A GREAT deal has been written and said about "trusting your partner rather than your opponents," but this, like all other advice, needs discriminating application. The fact is that sometimes it is wiser to "trust" the enemy. Let's look at a case:

South, dealer.

North-South vulnerable and 40 on score.

	♠KQJ6 ♥A953 ♦Q82 ♣A7
WEST ♠852 ♥4 ♦93 ♣Q1098642	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	EAST ♠A ♥KQJ1076 ♦74 ♣KJ53
	♠109743 ♥82 ♦AKJ1065 ♣—

This was the bidding in a high-stake New York game:

South	West	North	East
3♦	Pass	Pass (!)	3♥
3♠	4♣	6♠	Dbl. (!)
Pass	Pass	Redbl.	Pass (!)
Pass	Pass

Obviously, there was nothing to the play, and North-South scored a tidy 2270 points.

A bidding coup of this dimension is not easily achieved, and North in particular deserved great credit for his performance. The key call in the above auction was North's swift pass to his partner's three-diamond opening! As he explained in postmortem, North was sure that an ace was missing from the combined hands, since South probably would not have preempted with two aces, and if South had any fairly normal distribution aside from his long diamond suit, an opening lead in hearts or clubs might establish a trick for the enemy before they lost their controlling ace. Besides, North pointed out, the part-score situation, with the opponents not vulnerable, suggested that East might compete, and then things might take an interesting turn!

After South's bid of three spades over East's three hearts, however, the picture changed radically, and now North stopped skirmishing! It is hard to believe that a player of experience—which East was—could be so lacking in ordinary prudence as to double a slam reached in such fashion; or, having doubled, to stand for the redouble. Also in the postmortem, East moaned that he thought his partner must have something for the club bid; but, wild as that club bid was, East should have been grateful for it—grateful enough to save at least seven clubs!

As a rule, nations could probably stay out of war if they got to know each other better. Or, in the case of India and Pakistan, not so well.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Albert Edward Wiggam, D.Sc.

Answer to Question 1.

YES, because an important hobby is a good sign of intelligence. Nearly all great men collected significant things in their childhood. Some writers began writing before they were 5 years old. Ralph Waldo Emerson's father wrote anxiously to a friend, "Ralph is now 3 years old but does not read very well." Maybe you've known such boys!

Answer to Question 2.

Yes, and I fear that he always will. The belief is based partly on his larger muscles, although women have greater vitality and live longer. Man also has a deeper voice and, since fear of a sudden loud noise is inherited, he uses it to scare the wits out of woman. The loud voice sounds to man like intelligence, although it may be only an echo from his empty head. Man thinks he is superior, and most women find that the easiest way to manage him is to let him continue to think so.

Answer to Question 3.

Most experts believe that no harm results if it is done very early and without letting the child notice it. But, if done by scolding or tying the left hand, they feel that nervousness and frustration tend to set up stuttering.

Increase Your Word Power!

Words make a great deal of difference in how you impress people. Therefore, you can improve yourself and create a more favorable impression if you read our instructive new booklet, "How to Increase Your Word Power, Think Better and Spell Perfectly, with Vocublary Test of Intelligence."

Passing Up a Dish —Of Octopus Meat

By RAMON COFFMAN

PERHAPS you remember the letter of a reader who asked whether an octupus is dangerous. I answered that the danger depends on th size. From another reader—Mrs. G. S. Beer—has come this letter:

"I had an experience with an octopus which might amuse you. It happened four years ago on the shore of Brittany in France.

"After taking a swim, a cousin and I decided to fish for shrimps. The tide went out, and little pools were left on the beach. In one of the pools, instead of shrimps, was an octopus. Its arms were about a yard long, but its body was only the size of a man's fist.

"I teased the octopus with the handle of my fishing net. It grasped the handle and I pulled it on the dry sand. Then it let out a kind of bag on its body. This bag contained liquid like black ink.

"I called my cousin, and he hurried to the scene. He told me he had heard that octopuses were good to eat, and could be captured safely if the ink pouch was turned inside out. Several times he grabbed the octopus by its body, trying to catch the bag, but the animal would swing its arms in the air to reach his arms and hands, and he then had to let go. He succeeded, however, in throwing the animal's arms against a nearby rock, time and again, hoping in that way to tire it out.

★ ★ ★

"THE OCTOPUS grasped his right arm firmly, but my cousin kept his presence of mind, and with his left hand overturned the pocket. Lots of dark liquid came out of it. The octopus had lost one arm in the struggle and now it fell back, loosely flapping three or four arms. Soon it was dead.

"We took the remains home, where the arms were cut off and beaten with a wooden hammer to soften the meat. The cook looked at the mess, sighed, and said she would boil it and would prepare a good sauce for it.

"The sauce was wonderful, but we never found out whether the flesh tastes like lobster, as my cousin had been told. Six persons gathered around the dinner table, but none cared to chew the rubberlike flesh."

Thank you, Mrs. Beer, for the interesting account. I think I should feel the same way if bits of octopus meat were offered to me.

Some kinds of wallboard, such as plasterboard, are designed so that the seam between sheets can be filled with a special filler and made completely inconspicuous. When these seams keep cracking open it usually indicates a slight movement in the wall or ceiling framework and trying to keep the seam filled is just about impossible. The best thing to do here is to cover the seam with a thin strip of wood lath.

Training Students in Housekeeping

By Edith M. Barber

IT is always fun to go back to the school or college from which you were graduated. The very place reminds you of pleasant and stimulating experiences. If there were any others, they have, of course, long been forgotten.

At Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, where I started my course of training, practically everything has changed except the outside of the building itself, and this is all to the good. The two-year course in "domestic science" has developed into a College of Home Economics. The "laboratories" where we usually worked with very small quantities, have been re-equipped with all modern labor-saving devices. Every type of utensil is available for comparative tests and all foods are prepared in family-size quantities.

In addition, not far from the school is the home management house where students live for five or six weeks to get experience in every type of household problem. There is even a baby living in the house, and under the supervision of the director, each student takes a turn in his care and feeding. As you see, throughout the course there is practical application of book and word-of-mouth teaching.

When we visited the house the guests were received by the hostess of the day who proudly showed us her home, as would any young housekeeper. Eventually, she asked us to help ourselves from the buffet table in the dining room prepared by the cook and the assistant cook of the day and served by the temporary waitresses. After the main course, we journeyed upstairs to visit another group where we were the guests for dessert and coffee.

Home economics training of today is certainly an improvement on the domestic science of an earlier day.

Following recipes from Dexel Institute:

Vanilla Wafers.

One cup butter (three-fourths cup vegetable shortening, one-fourth cup butter), one and one-half cups sugar, three eggs, two and two-thirds cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one tablespoon milk, two teaspooons vanilla extract.

Thoroughly cream butter and sugar; add eggs and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients, then milk and vanilla. Spoon level teaspoons of dough on greased cookie sheet, decorate if desired, and bake at 400 degrees for eight to 10 minutes or until delicately browned around the edges. Makes three to four dozen cookies.

Sweet-Sour Pork.

Ingredients: One and one-half pounds lean shoulder pork, cut in strips two inches long, one-half inch wide or six pork chops; two tablespoons fat, one-fourth cup water, one-fourth cup brown sugar, two tablespoons cornstarch, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth to one-third cup vinegar, one cup pineapple juice, one tablespoon soy sauce, three-fourths cup green pepper, cut in strips; one-fourth cup thinly sliced onions, one No. 2 can pineapple chunks.

Brown pork slightly in hot fat. Add water, cover and cook slowly one hour. Combine the brown sugar, cornstarch, salt, vinegar, pineapple juice and soy sauce; mix. Cook until slightly thick, stirring constantly. Pour over hot, cooked pork; let stand at least 10 minutes. Add green pepper, onion, and pineapple chunks and cook only two or three minutes. Vegetables should remain crisp. Serve with hot, fluffy rice. Serves six.

My Day -O- By Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK.

I LEFT Hyde Park early Wednesday morning for Cornell University. In Syracuse I was met by some of the staff of the World Youth Assembly and after a pleasant drive through the beautiful Finger lake countryside, we arrived at the inn at Cornell, which is run as part of the hotel management course.

Mrs. Roosevelt

The World Youth Assembly is an interesting group of young people who came together some years ago in opposition to an international youth movement that seemed at that time completely controlled by the Communist group.

These young people all get on extremely well and are doing a good job in trying to understand one another. For that reason, however, there sees to be less real outspoken divergence on any subject. You feel perhaps it would be well for these youngsters to forget that they might hurt one another's feelings and to speak more frankly and openly on a number of things.

Some very plain questions were asked after my talk but each delegate who asked a controversial question said he hoped his colleagues from this country or that would not be offended. As a matter of fact, no one should be offended by honest questions or honest differences of opinion.

★ ★ ★

I WAS UP early Thursday morning in order not to keep the officers from the Sampson Air Force Base waiting, but they were ahead of me at the desk when I went down at 10 minutes before 9:00, and we left at once for the air base.

I was very much interested in talking with one of the trainees who came over in the car with one of the officers to get me. This young man came from Westfield, N.J., and had been attending Lehigh University. One summer he bicycled in Europe with a group of students and I was impressed by how much he had learned during that trip. If all of us learned as much and observed as much, the various exchanges of students and various groups now going on would show even more tangible results than they do.

I spent an hour at Sampson and then went to visit the George Junior Republic. Here I lunched with Mr. Urquhart and some of the students, after which the students took me around and showed me how the republic is run.

★ ★ ★

A THIRD of the students are sent by juvenile courts, one third are referred by various welfare organizations, and the remainder are attracted to the junior republic by the type of education they can receive there.

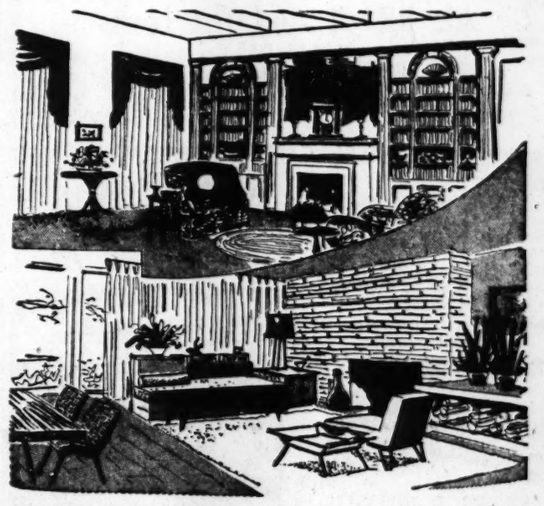

It is certainly good training for future citizenship. They hold town meetings once a month, and all the citizens attend. They elect their officers and these, in turn, appoint minor officials. They do a tremendous amount of work around the place, have their own currency and manage their own money. Having passed the laws, they enforce them and have their own court where they mete out punishment to offenders.

They have built their own swimming pool, they are reshingling their chapel, they keep the grounds in order. In fact, there is no job that they cannot tackle.

Designing Woman

A 10-Year Difference

By Elizabeth Hillyer

CHANGES in the home come gradually, and it takes the checking of a typical living room of 10 years ago against a lving room of today to point out how much that room has changed.

In 1941 the living room in the top sketch looked pretty wonderful to almost everybody, and it still looks fine to a big share of the population now. It's still comfortable and pleasant and it exists more widely than the living room that's typically 1951.

The living room should not be changed just because there is a new style. Style alone isn't reason enough. But the reasons behind the style changes of the past 10 years are important to consider. They have come about because a way of living has changed, and if a wider use of the room, easier housekeeping and easier entertaining would make your living brighter, changes in the living room are due. Don't let a living room ideal of yesterday dictate its standards for now. Today's living room serves more purposes, takes harder wear and is easier to care for than the living room of 10 years ago. It brings in more sunlight, burns a bigger fire on the hearth and enjoys simpler and natural materials.

★ ★ ★

TO SUM UP 10 year differences:

Walls. Niches and arches disappear today and most walls are plain. Instead of fancy woodwork, complete walls are often of wood, plain surfaced and in natural finishes. Plaster walls are smooth, doors and windows are untrimmed.

Fireplace. The formal mantel and the almost inevitable mirror above it cleared out in favor of an enormous brick or stone fireplace in the most modern house. There is more variety in design in general.

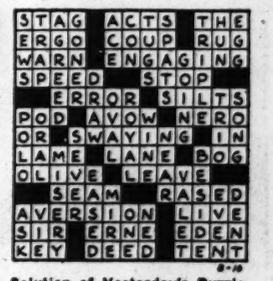

Windows. Fabrics most often hang straight at windows today. Curtaining opens to the full width of the window to let in all possible light, and closes completely. Dust-catching trimmings are seldom seen. When wide windows are lacking, single one are treated as wide ones and groups of windows are treated together. The wall is decorated, rather than individual windows.

★ ★ ★

FURNITURE. Even though the room includes fewer pieces of furniture more room is provided today for comfort for more people. A long seating piece or seat-units grouped as one leave more floor free and create a more spacious effect than the many pieces of furniture that used to clutter a room. Tables are bigger and fewer. Storage is taken care of by many kinds of pieces in style. Upholstery fabrics are hardier and easier to care for, glass and metal are used in new ways. Wood finishes are natural, more damage resistant. Dining room furniture comes into the living room to make it a living-dining room.

Floors. More rugs are used, more floors are seen. Carpet rayon and cotton step along in style with wool.

Half a Love
by Vida Hurst

CHAPTER 28.

IT was early when Matt had brought Vicky home. Not quite 11 as the taxi she had called entered the ramp leading to Golden Gate Bridge. She was going to Matt, certain of her welcome. Before when she had quarreled with Jim he had sought solace in the arms of another woman, but Matt was not like that. Matt's pride was hurt but he really loved her.

They were crossing the bridge now and she was thinking of Liz, remembering the girl's desperation the day Matt saved her. Liz was all right now. Her letters reported a different situation than had existed in San Francisco.

"Men in Alaska are a dime a dozen," Liz had written characteristically. "You can take your choice and they actually seem grateful. One has one's favorites, or should I say favorite? Nevertheless Liz Nolan has learned not to go overboard for any of them."

Liz would be pleased to know Vicky and Matt were to be married. And what about Florence? Vicky found that all her resentment against her cousin had disappeared. Since Florence had suggested it she would ask Matt to take her there some evening. Vicky was proud of him and Richard's condescension could not hurt someone who would be unconscious of it.

The taxi was in Sausalito now, approaching Matt's cottage.

"This the place, Miss?" the driver inquired.

"Yes. This is it." There was a light in the living room but the shades were drawn.

Vicky paid her fare and opened the gate. The taxi started as she walked up the steps to the porch, but before she had time to knock the door opened.

"Why, Vicky!" Matt cried.

She had hoped the sight of her would dispel his doubts, but obviously he was still unconvinced.

"I have something to tell you," she said.

Matt stood aside for her to enter. "Your friend brought you over?"

"My friend," she said wickedly, "will take me home, I hope."

A little annoyed with him for what seemed to be excessive blindness she sank upon the faded cushions of the davenport.

Matt stood stiffly upright before the fireplace. How strong he looked and how she loved him!

"I just wanted to say that you were right," she said. "Jim came as soon as you left and asked me to marry him."

"You needn't have driven clear over here to tell me that."

"I thought you'd like to know. You said you wanted the truth."

"You could have telephoned," he reminded her.

How stupid could a man be?

"What's the matter with you?" Vicky demanded. "Have you changed your mind already? Don't you love me any more?"

"Of course I love you." he snapped. "And I hope you'll be happy. I can't be expected to turn cartwheels over it."

"I'll settle for a kiss," she said hopefully.

"Well, you'll not get it. I'm not interested in kissing a girl who is going to marry another man."

"I didn't say I was going to marry him. I said he proposed. A girl doesn't have to marry a man just because he asks her."

Matt turned and the light in his eyes was blinding.

"Vicky," he cried, "what are you saying?"

"I love you, Matt! I love you more than anyone."

"Then why were you so upset when you saw him this evening?"

"I don't know. Habit I guess. I thought I didn't care for him anymore but I wasn't sure until he asked me to marry him."

"Sure about what?" Matt insisted, but now she was in his arms.

"That you're the only man I want. That only you can give me the kind of marriage I want. . . ."

His kiss stopped her. Later, on the way to her apartment, she said, "Would you mind very much if I go home to be married? My mother will be so disappointed if I don't."

"My mother would have been the same way," he admitted. "It's your wedding, Vicky. It shall be the way you want."

She knew then that she had chosen wisely. His love would be hers for the rest of her life.

THE END.

A new serial, "Girl Who Took a Chance," by Rob Eden, will begin tomorrow in the Everyday Magazine.

VIRGIN MARY TO BE HONORED AUG. 15 WITH SPECIAL MASS

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)—For the first time since Pope Pius proclaimed the dogma of the assumption into Heaven of the Virgin Mary, a special mass honoring her will be celebrated in Catholich churches throughout the world Aug. 15—feast day of the assumption.

TAX LIENS OF $45,406 ON JACOB NOVICH ESTATE

Income tax liens totaling $45,406 were filed against the estate of Jacob Novich, St. Louis hotel owner, by the collector of internal revenue yesterday.

The liens, filed in probate court, represent claims for allegedly unpaid taxes plus interest and penalties for 1944 through 1949. Taxes were reported to have been due as follows: 1944—$505; 1945—$3449; 1946—$2501; 1947—$3600; 1948—7518; 1949—$9007.

Novich, owner of the Fulton Hotel, 4489 Washington avenue, died May 2, 1950, leaving a $186,962 estate, but without a will and with no known heirs. However, Mrs. Ida Volk of Baltimore filed an affidavit here Thursday declaring she is his widow.

Cecil Block, administrator of the estate, said outstanding deeds of trust on the properties making up the estate would reduce the value to about $100,000, leaving an estimated $65,000 after payment of the tax lien.

WORLD WAR II CEMETERIES ABROAD NEARLY COMPLETED

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Government official says that in another year American World War II cemeteries overseas will be in "perfect condition."

"We're getting to the place where these cemeteries are ready for relatives to visit them," Harold A. Keats, of the American Battle Monuments Commission, said yesterday after a tour of the cemeteries.

Keats said the job of bringing the dead home at the request of relatives, or transferring them from temporary burial grounds to the 16 permanent World War II cemeteries abroad, virtually has been completed. He said about 40 per cent of the dead have been returned to this country, while next of kin of the other casualties chose overseas burial. About 300,000 Americans were killed during the war.

SENATORS FOR TRIPLE DAMAGE SUITS IN G.I. HOUSING FRAUDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee yesterday approved a bill to let veterans sue for triple damages if they are gypped in buying a home.

The House has passed the bill. Suit may be brought against anyone who knowingly sells a veteran a home "considerably in excess of the reasonable value" as determined by the Veterans Administration.

Flashes of Life

By the Associated Press.

Why the Train Was Late.

PEKIN, Ill.—A diesel locomotive sat on the New York Central Railroad tracks in Pekin all night because the train crew was in jail.

Police charged the three-man crew with disorderly conduct outside a Pekin tavern. The three were fined $25 and costs each later when they pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Joe Aimone. They then headed for Urbana in their locomotive.

The three gave their names as Eldredge Hord, G. E. Black and G. F. Wooldridge, all of Urbana.

Possum Goes to Town.

FRANKFORT, Ky.—A possum perched on a traffic light on main street almost caused a traffic jam.

The animal crept down a guy wire that helps suspend the light over the intersection. It settled down atop the light and seemingly enjoyed the crowd's efforts to coax it down.

A Negro solved the situation. He got a long pole and reached up to the top of the blinking light. The possum nonchalantly crawled down the pole, right into a sack.

BAKERS END 10-DAY STRIKE IN MINNEAPOLIS, ST. PAUL

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 11 (UP)—About 1100 AFL bakers have agreed to end a strike against 24 big bakeries which had forced housewives to bake their own bread or depend on the few corner bake shops for it.

The strikers last night accepted a settlement, which failed to win a three-week vacation for employes with 10 years' service which had brought on the strike July 31.

The 24 big bakeries had been closed down here and in St. Paul. They said they would begin baking at midnight tonight and have fresh bread for grocery shelves Monday morning.

ACTOR CHARLES WINNINGER AND HIS SECRETARY MARRY

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP)—Charles Winninger, 67 years old, stage, screen and radio actor, married his secretary, Miss Gertrude Walker, in a civil court ceremony yesterday in Juarez, Mexico.

Shortly before the ceremony a final divorce decree in Juarez court ended Winninger's marriage to former actress Blanche Ring. He filed divorce proceedings several months ago.

"I'm not ashamed of my age," Miss Walker told reporters. "I'm still 42."
